MEASURES BEING CONSIDERED FOR AID OF FARMERS

President Discusses Plight With Senator Watson

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Measures to relieve the financial plight of the farmers and curb profiteering particularly in food and clothing, were discussed with President Harding today by Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana. The senator's visit to the white house followed a conference in his office at which a number of senators from western states talked over a possible legislative program acceptable to the west.

Picturing to the president how the farmers are generally unable to get enough for their crop to pay for harvesting and shipping while consumers pay high prices, Senator Watson urged the immediate necessity of some forceful program to put agriculture on its feet and squeeze out the long line of profit-taking between producer and consumer.

Senator Watson's view is that any program of relief from the farmer must go farther than the questions of freight rates, interest rates and tariff rates.

He told the president that he favored the program for agricultural credits but that he feared it would not strike at the root of the question.

Senator Watson also told President Harding he had undertaken a study of the anti-proteger laws of other countries and particularly was examining those which appeared to be meeting with some success. So far as his study had proceeded the senator said he did not believe fixing would be successful but he was inclined rather to a plan which would expose profits along the line and depend upon an aroused public population to grant reasonable profits to business and at the same time drive out extortions.

SHIPPING BILL TARGET OF BIG GUNS IN HOUSE

Opponents Plan to Rake it Fore and Aft with Amendments

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The big guns on both sides were turned loose in the house battle today over the administration shipping bill.

When general debate which had run for three full days ended tonight opponents of the measure were ready for the attempt to be made Monday to rake it fore and aft with amendments, while those who have urged its passage expressed belief that their forces could be held together to put it thru substantially as framed.

Meanwhile, absent members were urged to return. The assurance given the president last night by Representative Mondall, Republican leader, that there were votes enough to pass it, put the opposition to work with renewed vigor. Both factions figured closely on the probable vote to be cast Wednesday for and against the bill, opponents asserting that unless the administration was able to line up and count all its absentees it might be beaten. Telegrams came today from many absentees, seeking pairs.

The first real test of strength will be developed Monday when the house is called upon to vote on amendments, some of which seek to strike out vital provisions.

As ranking Democrat of the merchant marine committee by which the bill was drafted, Representative Hardy of Texas made the principal assault on it today in a two hour speech. He was joined by Representative Frear, Republican, Wisconsin, Representative Garrett, Tennessee, the Democratic leader, and others, while Representative Mondall, the Republican leader and Chairman of the committee, went to the front with many Republicans in his defense.

An assertion by Mr. Hardy that "there is not a paragraph in the bill that was not framed by the steamship owners," was denied by Representative Edmonds, Pennsylvania, ranking Republican of the merchant marine committee, who declared he had written many of the provisions and that they were not put there at the behest of outside influences.

Breaking into the wrangle, Representative John Nelson, Republican, Wisconsin, said he had received information that virtually every demand of the shipping interests had been incorporated.

Mr. Hardy charged that under the legislation proposed by the committee the Standard Oil company will receive money from the government for transporting its own products in its own tankers so it can sell oil costing 50 cents a barrel in Texas for $7 in Shanghai.

TIERNAN MARRIES IOWA WIDOW

(By The Associated Press) HANSLEIGH, Iowa, Nov. 25.—The Rev. Charles H. Hawn and his wife, parents of Mrs. Blanche I. Brimmer who was married at Crown Point, Ind., today to John P. Tiernan one of the figures in the Tiernan-Poulton paternity case, tonight told the former Notre Dame professor had courted their daughter by mail.

Mrs. Brimmer, friends said had been married twice. She was married the first time when only 13 years old to a man named Rash living at Mount Vernon, Iowa. After the birth of a child she ob Chicago for a short time as a bookkeeper. While in Chicago she talked a divorce and worked in construction gang foreman.

The Brimmers, it was said made their home in Wisconsin for some time before Mrs. Brimmer returned to Aredale, Iowa to live with her parents, the Rev. Hawn being the pastor of the Methodist church at Aredale. It was reported that Brimmer had disappeared and later that he had been killed. Mrs. Brimmer has two children, Verdene, 7 years old by her first husband and May three years old, by her second husband. The Rev. Hawn today said that sympathy had sprung up between his daughter and Tiernan during the paternity trial when the professor had started corresponding with Mrs. Brimmer. At the close of the court action, he added Tiernan had written proposing marriage.

"The deep interest and sympathy which Blanche felt for Professor Tiernan, prompted her to accept the proposal," he said.

THREE ALLIES ARE GIVEN HARD JOLT BY UNITED STATES

Ambassador Child Declares That the Government Has the Support of the Public in Opposition to All Secret Treaties—Merely Restatement of Hughes' Aide-Memoire

(By The Associated Press)

LAUSANNE, Nov. 25.—America gave Great Britain, France and Italy a hard jolt together when her spokesman, Richard Washburn Child, declared that the United States government has the support of the American public in its opposition to all secret treaties and agreements, particularly those designed to create zones of economic and commercial influence such as the San Remo tri-partite agreement of 1920 which apportioned the Mesopotamian oil fields among the three big powers.

Mr. Child's exposition merely was a restatement of Secretary Hughes' aide-memoire of October 30, in which he defined for the benefit of the British, French and Italian governments the functions of the American observers to the Lausanne conference and broadly outlined America's open door policy for the near east, but it was restatement under conditions that made it sensational.

It came as the conference was about to begin consideration of Turkey's Asiatic boundaries, and it was a clear warning that America will not remain silent if the three inviting powers insist upon preferential rights in oil, mineral, railway and power development in present Turkish territory or in that which was looped off by the war.

The Turkish delegates had made clear that they would insist upon their country sharing in the Mosul Petroleum fields in Mesopotamia which the three inviting powers have reserved for themselves, consequently it was not displeasing to the Turks for the United States to go on record against the San Remo agreement.

It was not possible for the delegates of the inviting powers to conceal their impatience at America's insistent reiteration of her policy which they represent, especially the refusal to accept a vote in the conference to sign any report or to accept any responsibility further than to act as an advisor.

The American observers it was remarked, are displaying a disposition to emulate the American policy which is quite unlike their retiring attitude at previous European conferences and which is causing much surprise among the other delegations. The new American attitude is affording great satisfaction to the neutral countries represented here. Apparently authenticated reports that Italy is making her support of the France-British position on German reparations dependent upon her receipt of commercial opportunities equaling those of France and Great Britain in the near east convinced the neutrals that the American pronouncement of today was justified and timely.

Japan's position on the open door in the near east is practically the same as that of the United States and all the less powers which cannot single handed care for their own rights rejoiced that a powerful spokesman had taken the stand to assure free trade in the orient.

MOTION WILL BE MADE MONDAY TO ADVANCE HEARING

Judge Carpenter to Hear Appeal of Board of Trade

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—A motion to advance the hearing of the appeal of the Chicago Board of Trade from the decision of Judge Carpenter at Chicago in the case brought to test the constitutionality of the grain futures act will be made in the supreme court Monday and the court will be asked to suspend the operation of the act until 20 days after it announces its decision.

In the brief which was submitted by Henry B. Robbins, counsel for the Chicago Board of Trade, it will be pointed out that similar suits have been filed in the courts by the other principal grain exchanges which trade in futures and that by agreement the other cases are to abide by the final decision in the Chicago case.

Declaring that the grain futures act was enacted to take the place of the future trading act which was held by the supreme court unconstitutional in all its court unconstitutional in all its regulatory features as beyond the taxing and commerce powers of congress the brief asserts that the new act re-enacts verbatim all the regulatory provisions of the former act, and is quite as objectionable.

Instead of forcing the exchanges to become contracting markets by a prohibitive tax on all future contracts not made by its members upon a qualifying exchange the brief states the present act seeks to attain the same results by imposing a penalty and imprisonment upon any person who makes a future contract for grain except thru a member of an exchange which has become a contract market.

"In other words," the brief continues, "the grain futures act is the same as the future trading act minus the tax imposed to enforce and plus a provision making non-compliance by members of the exchanges a crime."

The new act, it is asserted, attempts to support its validity by reciting that manipulation upon the 'changes causes sudden and violent changes in prices which constitute a burden upon interstate commerce in grain.

But this is not true, the Chicago Board of Trade contends, and in support of its position it will submit to the court a chart of wheat prices in Chicago covering a period of 81 years, and will present the affidavits of 22 professors of political economy in prominent universities.

A THOUGHT
The beloved of the Lord shall dwell in safety by Him; and the Lord shall cover him all the day long.—Deuteronomy 3:12.
The worlds in which we live are the two.
The world "I am" and the world "I do."
The worlds in which we live at heart are one.
The world "I am" and the fruit of "I have done."
And underneath these worlds of flower and fruit,
The world "I love"—the only living root.

One must admit that Mr. Darrow has the advantage in looking at tax matters. Once he was poor or of very moderate means, like the rest of us, and in later years thru his successful law practice landed in the millionaire class. So he knows about taxes from both angles.

In McLean county it is reported that the state highway department is favorable to the building of additional hard roads in that county in 1923 to the cost of $900,000. That is a big stretch of roadway and it is time for Morgan county to be jealous, even tho some favorable promises have been made for hard road construction here.

Henry Ford has now entered the coal business and perhaps it may be revolutionized later on by his methods. At any rate, the automobile magnate is reported to have paid $20,000,000 for certain coal properties in Kentucky. A railroad line is to be developed which will connect the road he already owns and the whole system is to be electrified, according to the story. Here is hoping that Mr. Ford is able to "show 'em" in the coal business just as he has in other fields of business activity.

There have been criticisms of the department of justice because alleged war time profiteers were not prosecuted. Now suits have been filed aggregating millions of dollars against firms who built cantonnments. The proceedings have all the marks of the serious purpose of the government, and delays are entirely justified if during that time the cases have been well prepared.

After all, ridicule is not the best weapon for use in fighting against the proposed constitution. That is often the method most

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

The Point of View

By Berton Braley

SOMEBODY else might not see you as I do.
Somebody else might not consider you plain.
Somebody else might be asking me, "Why do
Other girls seem to you silly and vain?"
I wouldn't say, but I love you; and therefore
When you are near, why, the heart in me melts,
So that I know that I really can't care for Somebody else.

SOMEBODY else might be fairer than you are,
I am conceding that somebody might.
Only I know that the girls whom I view are None of them one-half so pretty or bright.
Maybe your beauty won't bring you renown for Capturing victims and taking their pelts,
Yet I am fearful you might turn me down for Somebody else!

SOMEBODY else might be hanging around you—
Not if I knew it, however, my dear.
I'm a bit jealous since that day I found you.
Somebody else better keep pretty clear.
Otherwise—well, kid, I've got a left hook like Dempsey's, at times; I can swing some mean belts.
Somebody else, if he meets me, will look like fruitful with results in a jury trial, but it is different in the discussion of a big public question.
Somebody else!

Considering Mr. Darrow's address after the passage of twenty-four hours or more, one is especially impressed with this thought. Ridicule is a weapon that does not have a lasting effect when charges are not followed up with proof.

Farming these days is recognized as a business matter and is no longer just a question of trying to increase production, as was once thought to be the case. Perhaps the man who led in the program of making three blades of grass grow where one had not do as much for the farmer as is commonly supposed.

At any rate, in these days marketing is just as important as production. It isn't out of place either, to remind Morgan county farmers how much better off they are today, with corn worth 45 cents than they were a year ago with the price at 35 cents. It is estimated that the corn crop in Macon county this year is worth $6,000,000 more by comparison with last year.

If the results in Massachusetts can be taken as typical, the people of this country are very much opposed to state censorship of motion pictures. In the election there were 545,910 votes against censorship and 297,476 for it. This means that the majority against was 338,443.

Will H. Hays, the president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, while manifestly pleased that the people of Massachusetts have thus declared against what he terms "undue political aggression," nevertheless sees in the action unmistakable challenge that the motion picture industry must carry out its own program for continual improvement and must discharge its duty to the public.

CORN EXPORTS INCREASING

Exports of corn from the United States for the first eight months of 1922 exceeded the exports for the entire year 1921, by 2,488,743 bushels, according to figures compiled by the United States Department of Agriculture. The total exports for 1921 were 128,974,505 bushels and for the first eight months of 1922, 131,463,248 bushels. These figures do not include corn meal and corn flour, of which 452,766 barrels—the equivalent of 1,311,044 bushels of corn—were exported during the first eight months of 1922.

DIRECT REPRESENTATION FOR MORGAN COUNTY.

The adoption of the proposed new constitution would guarantee to Morgan county one representative in the general assembly and probably would result in the election of a Morgan county citizen as state senator.

No citizen of Morgan county has been elected to the house of representatives since 1905 and none to the state senate for more than twenty years. This condition has resulted from the fact that Morgan and Sangamon counties comprise one senatorial district and Morgan county voters are overwhelmingly outnumbered.

The chances for relief under the present constitution are negligible. In spite of the constitutional provision for senatorial reapportionment every ten years, we have gone for twenty years without change. Since a reapportionment at this time under the present constitution would result in giving Cook county 47 per cent of the members of each house, it is almost a foregone conclusion that down state legislators will be practically unanimous in their opposition to any change.

Under the proposed new constitution the state would be divided into 153 representative districts, from each of which one representative would be elected, and the state outside of Cook county into 38 senatorial districts, from each of which one senator would be elected. It is further provided in the proposed constitution that if the general assembly shall fail to make the required apportionment, it shall be made by the secretary of state, the attorney general and the auditor of public accounts.

Under the new constitution Morgan county would comprise one representative district and elect one member of the house of representatives. Under the reapportionment which is bound to come if the new constitution is adopted, it is almost certain that Morgan county with a number of smaller adjoining counties, would comprise a senatorial district and the chances of a Morgan county citizen being elected to the state senate would be infinitely greater than at present.

STRANGE MR. YOU.

N. E. A.

We are strange nervous mechanisms, we humans, fearfully and wonderfully made. And here are three of the strangest things about us, caught in the far-flung net, today's news:

A young soldier, mentally wrecked by shell shock, was experimented on by doctors. Taken to a room where everything was a vivid red, he shrieked in agony. They led him to a primrose-yellow room. He sighed happily, drifted to deep sleep. Kept in this room he rapidly recovered to normal.

S. T. Ballinger of New York tells this remarkable story of a convention of paint and varnish makers.

Ballinger says scientists have discovered that a room furnished in a dark color tends to cause melancholia and an aversion to work. A red room temporarily stimulates, then reacts in nervous headaches. Blue induces calm, green seems to impart happiness and vitality. Yellow makes people amiable, contented, soothed.

A good tip, when you redecorate the home. To avoid monotony, use combinations, not one color alone.

The effect of color vibrations on our nerves is a mystery.

Railroad riding will be rougher as the weather gets colder, says Dr. Plimmon H. Dudley, weather expert for New York Central railroad.

He explains it this way: "Winter cold makes the steel rods shrink in length a 150,000th of an inch for each degree the thermometer drops. To our delicate nerves, riding seems very lumpy over the slight gaps between the shrunken rails.

You think it wonderful that "frost" can shrink steel rails and make them crack. More wonderful is that we strange humans are more powerful than either cold or steel, both our slaves. Our mental and nerve powers, compared with animals are little short of terrible.

In Western Electric laboratories, this is discovered: The human voice can be reduced to a millionth of its volume and still be heard. But the voice cannot be heard when reduced to a ten-millionth.

That is a remarkably fine distinction, the vanishing point of sound so infinitesimally minute that the human brain cannot conceive of it.

Yet it holds good for all normal human ears, although no two people hear the same thing in exactly the same way.

When you ponder marvels, consider the delicacy of the human nerves that make all this possible.

OFFER COURSES IN BANKING

CHICAGO.—(By A. P.)—The Illinois State Chapter of the American Institute of Banking is offering five correspondence courses: elementary banking, commercial law, negotiable instruments, standard economics, and standard banking.

A description of the courses issued by the chapter said, "the chapter offers the young banker an opportunity to gain through study a mastery of the banking business that older men have obtained through long and costly experience. Many banks are paying for the study courses in behalf of their employees."

"Correspondence students of average ability and industry should complete the elementary banking course in from six months to a year. To students who pass final examination in elementary banking the elementary certificate of the institute is awarded."

"Enrollment in the institute standard courses of study is restricted to (1) students who possess the institute elementary certificate and (2) students who have either had three years of experience in a banking institution or three years of study in a high school. Correspondence students who have previously completed the institute elementary course of study or its equivalent, should complete each of the institute standard courses in less than a year."

"Credit is given several for final examinations successfully undergone, but institute standard certificates are issued only to students who have passed final examination in commercial law, negotiable instruments, standard economics and standard banking."

MOHAMMED SPENDS TIME READING BIBLE

Chicago.—Mohammed Ali, one of the Ali brothers who were the associates of Gandhi in the non-cooperationist movement in India and now serving sentence in jail at Bhopal, is making an intensive study of the Christian Bible, according to a letter written by him to a Methodist missionary, reporting here to Methodist headquarters.

The letter contains a very literary discussion of "exquisite style" of the seventeen century translators, and Ali expresses a desire to study the history of the Bible during the various phases of Hebrew history. The letter adds that he is devoting as much time to the study of the Bible as to the study and memorizing of the Koran, the regular occupation of the Mohammedan scholar.

NEW CHURCH TO BE TALLEST IN WORLD

CHICAGO.—(By A. P.)—The new $4,000,000 Temple of Western Methodism, which the First Methodist church of Chicago is erecting, will be the tallest church in the world, according to clergymen and local architects.

A twenty-two story building of the modern skyscraper type, it is planned to be surmounted by a 150 foot spire which raises the entire height to 545 feet.

This structure, which is expected to be ready for occupancy May 1, 1923, is being erected on a lot in Chicago's congested loop district 182 feet 6 inches by 80 feet and 5 inches.

In ground dimensions, St. Peter's cathedral in Rome is larger than the new temple. The cathedral covers an approximate ground space of 162,000 square feet, is 615 feet at its greatest length and 450 feet at its greatest width. The dome of the cathedral, one of the distinctive features of the church, is 138 feet in diameter and rises to a height of 434 feet.

St. Paul's cathedral in London another great European church, is 515 feet at its greatest length and 250 feet at its greatest width. The cross surmounting the church is 363 feet high. The cathedral, before being rebuilt by Wren, was 596 feet long and 104 wide with a spire 183 feet high. Both St. Paul's and St. Peter's have floor plans in the shape of Roman crosses.

The new Chicago church will have a floor space of about 322,000 square feet. Not all of this will be devoted to the church proper. Much of it will be in office space, which is expected to pay revenue to the church.

International Students' Conference, "Essential Qualifications for World Leadership"; Harry W. White, secretary for the Y. M. C. A. in India, "A World Program in Foreign Lands."

The Galesburg High school band and the Rotary club quartet will furnish music. The boys will be entertained in homes of Peoria church people.

TOO GOOD TO BE REAL. RULED OUT

CHICAGO.—(By A. P.)—Because she was too good to be real—a smug little hypocrite—Elsie Dinmore was ruled from the childhood hall of fame by Norma McMein, the artist. Miss McMein was one of a number of prominent men and women voting on a list of childhood heroes and heroines submitted by the National Kindergarten and Elementary college.

The eleven highest in the order named were: Christ, Lincoln, Washington, Jo (Little Women), Sir Galahad, King Arthur, David, Daniel, Cinderella, Joseph and Joan of Arc, Captain Kidd, Gulliver, Huck Finn, Tom Sawyer, Robin Hood, Columbus and Alice in Wonderland were other heroes voted upon favorably by Miss McMein.

Dr. Charles W. Elliot, president emeritus of Harvard University voted for Christ, Columbus, Daniel, Joan of Arc, Joseph, Moses, Robinson Crusoe, Ruth, Washington and William Tell.

Mary Roberts Rinehart voted for books of adventure, favoring "Robinson Crusoe," "The Mysterious Island," "Swiss Family Robinson" and "Hans Anderson's Fairy Tales to Little Women" and "Little Men."

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, voted for Ben Hur, Hiawatha, David, King Arthur, Lincoln, Peter Pan, Sir Galahad, Uncle Remus and Washington.

Woodrow Wilson replied that he "did not feel wise enough" to sit in judgment on childhood heroes.

The Journal will publish each day for a number of weeks, beginning today a list of three words, with their meanings and how to use them. The lists are prepared from a recognized authority on the use of the ENGLISH LANGUAGE.

The World's Idolized Actor

"A Stage Romance"

Any reference to the old romantic days of the famous Drury Lane Theatre, in London, is sufficient to set the blood of the true dramatic student tingling. In its heyday it was the birthplace of scores of sweeping successes, and across its boards strutted young players whose names later were added to the roll of the stage's great artists and geniuses. Of these none is more illustrious than the name of Edmund Kean, for history depicts no character whose life combined such startling contrasts of success and failure; such idolizing worship and tragic degradation.

Drury Lane Theatre, duplicated faithfully to the last detail, is pictured in "A Stage Romance," with the beloved actor William Farnum personating Edmund Kean. It is said that Farnum has made a tremendous hit by his impersonation of that noted actor. The incident for which the Drury Lane playhouse was duplicated has been pronounced by Herbert Brenon, Farnum's eminent director, to be one of the finest dramatic surprises he ever encountered for use in a picture.

TURKEYS QUOTED
AT 50 CENTS IN CHICAGO MARKET

Thanksgiving Fowl Will be Too High for Most of Us This Year

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—With only three more trading days before Thanksgiving Day, turkeys, live and dressed, ranged from two to eight cents higher today in the Chicago jobbing market than for the same date a year ago. The week closed with an air of uncertainty and indications of larger receipts next week.

Better economic conditions and favorable weather were the principal reasons mentioned for the price increases. Prices which the jobbers said they were paying shippers today were given as 35 cents for choice live turkeys compared with 23 cents for the same day last year, and 50 cents for dressed choice very picked meat stock compared to 42 cents a year ago.

VACATES DIVORCE
DECREE OF TIERNAN

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 25.—Judge Chetor Montgomery this afternoon vacated the divorce decree granted Thursday to John P. Tiernan, former professor at the University of Notre Dame from his wife, Mrs. Augusta Tiernan. He set Dec. 11, as the date for a rehearing of the case and declared he would investigate the possibilities of criminal collusion in the previous hearing.

Mrs. Mont R. Winters went to Greenfield Thursday to remain until Sunday with Mrs. Lyman R. Prindle.

COMPLETE JURY
IN LOWE TRIAL

GREELEY, Colo., Nov. 25.—A jury to try Bert J. Lowe on the charge of slaying his sister-in-law Edna Fern Skinner, of Bloomington, Ill., was completed in the district court this afternoon. Louis D. Reed, district attorney immediately proceeded with his opening arguments.

The jury is composed of two real estate dealers, six farmers, two mechanics and two mechanics. One alternate was chosen.

NEW YORK ALL RIGHT WITH EDDIE COLLINS

Philadelphia.—The stories that Eddie Collins, the crack second baseman of the Chicago White Sox, will be with the New York Americans next year will not come down. Collins, who winters in one of the suburbs of Philadelphia, was asked what he knew about it.

"All that I know of the reported deal that is to take me to New York is what I have read in the papers," he replied.

"Would you like to play there?" was the next question put to him.

"Most any player would welcome a chance to go to New York. The Chicago fans have always treated me great and I like the city, but I certainly wouldn't offer any objections if the Sox decided to send me to New York."

"Funny thing, but from the very first day I broke into major league ball I cherished a desire to wear a New York uniform. Perhaps it was because I made my baseball start at Columbia, which is located in that city.

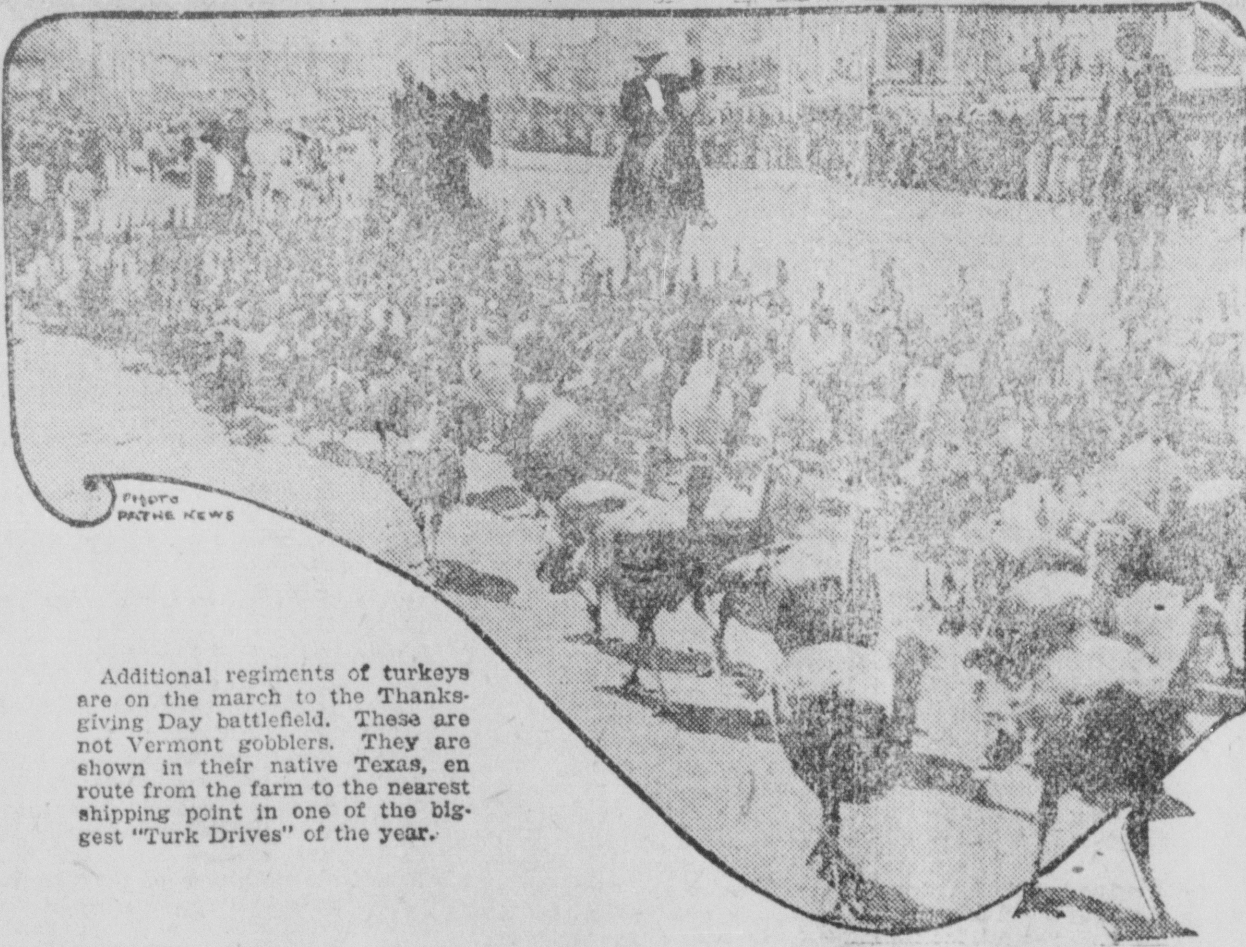

"The financial possibilities in New York also appeal to the player. New York draws the big crowds and can pay the fancy salaries if they want a man. Then there is the world series to shoot at. New York has won two pennants and despite all the criticism that has been hurled at the Yankee club because of its poor showing in the series, it still is a mighty tough team to beat over the long route."

WELL KNOWN ST. LOUIS
RESIDENT IS DEAD

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 25.—Frederick G. Naidringhaus, 85, former congressman, founder of Granite City, Ill., and retired tin ware manufacturer, died today.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Porter are planning to spend the winter in Florida and expect to leave about the middle of December.

Reinforcements on the March

Additional regiments of turkeys are on the march to the Thanksgiving Day battlefield. These are not Vermont gobblers. They are shown in their native Texas, en route from the farm to the nearest shipping point in one of the biggest "Turk Drives" of the year.

INCREASED EFFICIENCY
IN PROHI ENFORCEMENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Increased efficiency in the enforcement of a number of federal laws including the Volstead act, has been brought about by a series of conferences arranged between United States attorneys and the authorities of various states, Attorney General Daugherty declared tonight in a statement.

Increased cooperation between federal and state officials is being sought partly to curb violations of criminal acts in addition to the Volstead act.

COACH ROPER HAS UNIQUE THEORIES

Coach Bill Roper of Princeton has some peculiar theories on football, yet they have been mighty successful.

One of his pet hobbies is that a player should never fall on a loose ball, instead he should pick it up and run with it.

The history of the gridiron has proved that the Roper theory in this respect is a mighty good one. Princeton beat Chicago and Harvard by grabbing a loose ball and running with it.

"An interferer never looks back." That is another Roper truth that is pointed out in a sign in the Princeton club house. "It is in a spot where it can't be missed as the players file in and out of the dressing room."

It is a rather interesting fact that failure to observe that truth resulted in a Princeton victory and a Harvard defeat in the recent game between the two teams.

George Owen, the Harvard back, after a run of 35 yards and a clear field, was tripped by one of his interferers who looked around.

It is a cliché that Coach Roper has called the attention of the Princeton players to that happen many a time since the Harvard game.

IDENTIFY MAN AS ASSAILANT

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Nov. 25.—William Mitchell of Ottumwa, today identified Stanley Lamb, under arrest here as the man who shot and wounded Oliver Dimmitt at Ottumwa last Wednesday night. Lamb also was identified by four other persons who say he held them up in their places of business. Lamb denied all the charges made against him but was taken back to Ottumwa tonight.

The use of eggs at Easter is a survival of a pagan custom, quite unrelated to Christianity.

BITTER RIVALS PLAY
CLEAN, HARD FOOTBALL

Ann Arbor, Mich. — Football enthusiasts who witnessed Michigan defeat Wisconsin saw two great football teams in action, eleven capable of holding their own with the best from any section of the country.

Wisconsin was far from disgraced in defeat. The margin of difference between the two teams was very slight. In the final minutes of play, Wisconsin, trailing by a 12 to 0 score, opened up its bag of tricks, showed a fighting spirit that was admirable and crossed Michigan's goal line, the first time that it had been done this year.

Only One Penalty. The meeting between Wisconsin and Michigan was unusual in a number of respects. It proved beyond a doubt that two teams can play hard football, yet do it in a clean manner that calls for no rebuke from the officials.

Only one penalty was inflicted during the entire game. Wisconsin suffered a loss of 15 yards because of tripping on the part of Sykes, which was largely accidental.

Wisconsin's touchdown was the result of five forward passes. Four were completed in succession, then a couple of line plays were tried and failed, followed by a pass across the goal line, which Pulaski, a substitute Wisconsin player, caught despite the fact that three Michigan players surrounded him.

A peculiar feature was that Michigan beat Wisconsin at its own game. In the first two periods neither team was able to score. Michigan had relied largely on straight football. Coaches must have told the boys something in between halves, because Michigan opened up very first time it secured the ball in the third period. Both Michigan scores were the result of forward passes.

Three Great Ends. The game produced three of the best ends of the year, Kirby and Goebel of Michigan and Tebbell of Wisconsin. Likewise it placed on exhibition two great halfbacks in Kipke of Michigan and Williams of Wisconsin. Williams, who had been named more or less in the Illinois game, was at his best in the Ann Arbor encounter.

Wisconsin in the last few minutes of the game showed a varied assortment of forward passes that had the tired Michiganers bewildered. Had Wisconsin opened up earlier there might have been a different tale to tell.

It was a great game, one that reflects great credit to both Michigan and Wisconsin as well as western football.

SOCIALISTS ACCUSE
DR. HERMAN MUELLER

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—Accused by the Socialists of having taken an active part in the Rhineland separatist movement in 1919, Dr. Herman Mueller, minister of agriculture and food controller, resigned his post today. His resignation was accepted by President Ebert. Dr. Mueller in a letter read in the Reichstag by Chancellor Cuno said his resignation was due to unjust reproaches by the Socialists and the atmosphere of political antagonism created to the detriment of a sober practical solution of the food problem.

Chancellor Cuno declared the Socialist reproaches were groundless.

MORE COMPLAINT
OF R. R. EQUIPMENT

Washington, Nov. 25.—Renewed complaint about the condition of much of the railroad equipment throughout the country was made to President Harding today by William H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists and Bert M. Jewell, president of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor. They declared the inspection of forces of the interstate commerce commission was inadequate for the work at hand and charged also that the carriers were failing to cooperate with the inspectors.

Mr. Johnston and Mr. Jewell asserted on leaving the white house that the shopmen's strike still was effective on about 50 percent of the roads.

U. S. REPRESENTED AT UNIVERSITY OF PARIS

Paris, Nov. 25.—The United States was well represented at the formal opening of the student year of the University of Paris when Ambassador Herrick presented a program received for three absentees Americans honorary degrees of doctors of laws recently awarded by the Sorbonne. They were Eliza Root, Dr. A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard University and Professor Albert A. Michelson, of the University of Chicago.

There were present many members of the American colony. It was the first solemn, official opening of the university since 1919.

The new rector, Dr. Paul Appel, pointed out that the degree of doctor honoris causa, was conferred upon President Wilson. Those other than Americans upon whom degrees were conferred today were President Masaryk and Foreign Minister Benes of Czechoslovakia.

Where Nature Caused Destruction

Earthquake and tidal wave ruined this beautiful valley at the foot of the Andes near Antofagasta. The nature of the devastated terrain along the Chilean coast is illustrated by this picture. The few miles which separate the Pacific from the foot of the mountains are now the scene of destruction and death on a gigantic scale.

Wisconsin and Chicago in Scoreless Tie

FIGHTING BADGERS STOP MAROON BACKS WITHOUT TROUBLE

Game Was a Distinct Upset as Chicago Was Regarded as the Favorite—Wisconsin Was Superior to Opponents in Ground Gaining Ability—Stop Battering Ram Thomas

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Wisconsin's fighting eleven closed like a vise on Chicago's famous line smashing backfield today and battled the Maroons to a scoreless tie.

The game was a distinct upset in the predictions as Chicago was regarded as the favorite. The tie marked the Maroons' first failure to win in a conference game this season and may cast a shadow on Chicago's claim to the conference title.

Uncovering a brilliant running and plunging offensive, the Badgers were superior in ground gaining ability throughout the first three periods. Costly fumbles twice undid sensational gains by Williams, Taft and Harris. Two 15-yard penalties also prevented a possible Wisconsin victory as the Badgers were within striking distance of the goal.

Chicago's famous battering rams, Zorn and the Thomas brothers, wore themselves out in fruitless attempts to pierce the Cardinal line. Williams, the left halfback, and Taft, the plunging fullback, frequently found holes in the Maroon line for long gains and Wisconsin's end around plays worked well.

The Badger punts, dispatched by Taft often went over the heads of the Chicago safety men. Three attempts to score by drop kicks failed, two from the 38 yard line.

In the last quarter Coach Staggs moved his trump card and sent Johnny Thomas, his great plunging fullback, into the game to replace Zorn. Thomas had little luck, as the Badgers smothered him before he could get started.

Palaski the Wisconsin end, electrified the crowd in the second quarter with a 38 yard run that threatened a touchdown.

Sweeping back from his position at left end, he took the ball and kicked his own right end. His interference rolled out in front of him and smoothed the way, but he was topped when cornered at the sidelines.

In the second half, Pyott breathed for a moment with a 20 yard sneak thru the line, but was felled by the Badger secondary defense.

In desperation the Maroons hurled passes to all corners of the field in the closing minutes but the Badgers leaned on them and kicked out of danger before the Chicagoans were in striking distance of the goal.

Buell is Key to Harvard Eleven

Minus Brainy Quarterback, Crimson Team Loses It's Punch

By BILLY EVANS

Did the loss of Quarterback Buell greatly handicap the Harvard eleven in the Princeton game?

It is a cliché that every Harvard supporter will answer in the affirmative.

With Buell in the game Harvard outplayed Princeton in the first period and was continuing the program in the second.

Then a mixup after Buell had tossed a forward pass resulted in an injury to Harvard's quarter back that caused his removal from the game.

It is a matter of record that from the time Buell left the game Harvard seemed like a different team. It lacked the line and the backs.

Harvard Style Differs
The Harvard style of football is a bit different from that employed by any of the other big eleven.

It has proved itself successful, yet it usually lacks the dash that characterizes the play of other teams.

Harvard regards the quarterback as supreme. He is the field general of the Crimson forces on the gridiron. It is his duty to direct but make the other players do the execution.

For that reason Harvard quarterbacks seldom carry the ball. As a rule quarterbacks are float of foot and their returns of punts form a big feature in nearly every game. With Harvard, however, it is different, the quarterback is instructed to signal for a fair catch on a punt.

The signaling for a fair catch of course eliminates any possibility of returning the ball, but it does prevent the quarter from being roughly handled.

Every now and then some coach instructs his team to crash into the Harvard quarter and be penalized, feeling that the tackle may prove of greater value than the penalty distance gained by the opposition.

During an exhibition tour, covering six months, he made 30 runs of 300 or more, far eclipsing any previous records.

SPRINGFIELD READY FOR THREE EYE LEAGUE
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 25.—Entrance of Springfield into the Three Eye baseball league, which she left several years ago became practically a certainty today when at a meeting of interested citizens a committee was instructed to draw up articles of incorporation for the Springfield Baseball association. The committee was also instructed to open negotiations for leasing the old Three Eye baseball grounds here.

A wire from President Terney of the Three Eye league was received stating a franchise would be granted Springfield if one is requested.

If the plans materialize it is probable Springfield will take over Mo-line's franchise.

GIRARD DEFEATS AUBURN HIGH 6-0
GIRARD, Nov. 25.—Girard again won a desperate struggle from Auburn high here this afternoon, the final score being 6 to 0. Girard made her score in the first quarter. During the remainder of the game it was largely an exchange of punts and the intercepting of forward passes on the part of both teams. Ralph Bowen was referee, Thomas Smith umpire. Girard plays the Illinois school for the first time Thanksgiving day and expects the largest crowd of the season.

EDOUARD HOREMANS.
Edouard Horemans was born at Antwerp, Belgium, April 25, 1899.

Horemans is one of the most brilliant billiard players in the world. He is left handed and without a peer at mass play.

He is an outstanding player to watch because he plays with a careless air and attempts the most difficult of shots without the slightest sign of emotion.

These remarkable feats performed in this country last year gave you some idea of Horemans' brilliancy of play.

Quarter Directs the Play

It is the duty of the Harvard quarterback to think his team to victory rather than actually turn the trick.

Coach Fisher or Harvard works on the theory that a quarterback cannot be buffeted around and retain his ability to think clearly and quickly. It is pretty good logic at that.

However, the spectacle of seeing a quarterback making a fair catch on every punt removes much of the thrill from the game. It also exasperates members of the team that are down on the punt ready to tackle the receiver of the ball.

Every now and then some coach instructs his team to crash into the Harvard quarter and be penalized, feeling that the tackle may prove of greater value than the penalty distance gained by the opposition.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE SHOWS REVERSAL; IS DEFEATED BY AUGIES

Augustatna Plays Over Her Head and Upsets Blue and White

ROCK ISLAND, Nov. 25.—Augustana college upset all the dope in the Illinois conference here this afternoon by defeating the strong Illinois college team by a score of 7 to 6.

The Swedes had not won a game this year and fought with desperation for a victory in the last game of the season. In fact the team played over its head while Illinois showed a decided reversal of form over that displayed in the defeats of Monmouth, Eureka and Wesleyan.

The teams battled on even terms in the first half, there being many exchanges of punts. Neither team threatened the other's goal during the entire two periods.

In the third quarter a poor punt that only traveled 15 yards gave Augustana, the ball on Illinois' 40 yard line. Then the Augies did something that no team had been able to do against Illinois all season. They took the ball and pounded their way thru the line the entire distance. Wilson finally going over for a touchdown and the extra point was made by a drop kick.

In the fourth quarter Illinois began to show some of her real form. A long pass, Plattner to Dale for 30 yards put the ball in striking distance and an attack on the line was commenced with Vogt, Rogers and Plattner carrying the ball. It was finally placed on Augustana's four yard line where Plattner bucked over for a touchdown but he failed in a place kick for the point.

Illinois again started a march for the Augustana goal and had the ball in dangerous territory when the final whistle sounded. With a few more minutes Illinois probably would have put over another touchdown and won the game. The lineup:

Center.....W. Roberts

Right Guard.....Gung

Right Tackle.....Ribelin

Right End.....Mellon

Quarterback.....Hopper

Right Half.....Vogt

Full Back.....Plattner

Time of Periods—15 minutes.

Referee—Thomas.

Umpire—Bridge.

Headlinesman—Davenport.

Substitutes—Illinois: Witschek for Dale; Reiss for Ribelin; Reid for Gard; George for Weber; Elder for Hopper; J. Roberts for Plattner.

SCOTT EXPLAINS FAILURE TO STAR

Shortstay Everett Scott of the New York Yankees, who like Babe Ruth was one of the big disappointments of the world series, has an explanation for his failure to show his old time form that sounds logical.

"A lot of people were surprised at my failure to get certain hits that were hit in my territory during the series," says Scott. "It was one of them, although it had been apparent to me all year that I wasn't covering as much ground as formerly."

"The idea has already been advanced that I am old and slipping in my play. Possibly there is some truth to that. I realize that I can't go as far for them as I could ten years ago. However, I feel that the Polo grounds was more responsible for making it seem that I was slowing up than any one other thing."

"Don't get the impression that I am offering this as an alibi, or that there is any thing wrong with the Polo grounds. As a matter of fact, the infield is so very fast at the Polo grounds that it has had me a bit off balance all year."

"National and American league players will tell you that the Polo grounds infield is the fastest in either league. The infield at the Boston American league park, where I have spent most of my career, is correspondingly slow. Players always jokingly referred to the Red Sox park as the swamp as the infield was low and always seemed inclined to be damp and slow."

"It was the irony of fate that I should be transferred to New York as I am nearing the end of my career and be forced to play on so fast an infield. I feel that I could switch back to the Boston park and seem as brilliant as ever."

"True, age is beginning to tell, but the speed of that New York infield has been my greatest woe."

When the Spaniards came to America they were astonished to find the natives of Mexico already using the cross as a religious symbol.

IN THIS COUNTRY the custom of cremating the dead has grown most rapidly on the Pacific coast and it is said that in Oakland and Pasadena the number of incinerations has equaled 50 per cent of the deaths.

IOWA SPOTS PURPLE THREE POINTS THEN WINS GAME 37 TO 3

Only in the First Quarter Did Northwestern Puzzle the Hawkeyes—Losers Score Only Points in the First Quarter on a Place Kick—Iowa Ran Score up Rapidly Afterward

(By The Associated Press)
IOWA CITY, Iowa, Nov. 25.—Spotting Northwestern to a three point lead in the first quarter the University of Iowa, 1921 western conference champions and claimants to the title this season, scored a brilliant victory in the final game today, 37 to 3.

Only in the first quarter did the purple eleven puzzle the Hawkeyes and to their credit must be written a great forward pass offensive. Captain Patterson put his team in the lead with a place kick from the 25-yard line.

After Glenn Miller scored Iowa's first touchdown early in the second quarter there was no doubt about the superiority of Howard Jones' eleven.

Locke and Kadesky added touchdowns before the half ended, Kadesky's being made on a great trick play. Shuttleworth had gone back for a purported drop kick and as the ball was passed he purposely fumbled, Rich recovering and passing to Kadesky, who received the ball on Northwestern's five yard line, whence he carried it across.

Today's game was the final one for Captain Gordon Locke. He made four

NEW WABASH CARD IS NOW IN EFFECT

Slight Changes Made in Time of Three Trains.

Several changes are found in the Wabash time card which went into effect at 12:05 o'clock this morning. Train No. 3 west bound passenger, which has been arriving here at 6:10 a. m. is to come five minutes later. A like difference applies to east bound passenger No. 4, which on the new card will arrive at 8:20 a. m. instead of 8:15 a. m. as at present.

The most important change has been made with reference to the night train to Chicago, known as No. 12. This train has been leaving Jacksonville for the east at 9:15 and tonight and hereafter in accordance with the new card will leave at 9:05. Jacksonville people were very hopeful that the new card would restore trains that have been so much missed during the past three months, one arriving from the east at 12:30 noon and another from the west about 5:15 p. m. Indications are, however, that these trains have been permanently taken from the card unless a rumored reorganization of the road should become a fact.

TITLE RECORD SHOWS WELL KNOWN NAMES

The abstract to the West State street property Dr. H. L. Griswold recently transferred to F. L. Batz includes the names of many of the men prominent in the development of Jacksonville.

The land on which this house was built was a part of a tract entered by W. Miller and J. Crowe, October 17, 1825. Four years later this land was conveyed to Ero Chandler and in 1831 was platted by him and became Chandler's addition to the city of Jacksonville.

Then in 1835 title to the property passed to the name of Joseph Duncan and a little later to Thomas January. Other names that appear in successive ownership are Ebenezer Miller, Cicero Davis, Silas Terry and Jacob Whitmore. In 1854 John M. Retter became the owner of the property for a consideration of $1450, and in 1863 after certain improvements had been made, the property passed to Mary D. Dayton, and when she died in November, 1876, became a part of her estate.

Partition proceedings followed and in July, 1883, Edward McConnell as master in chancery, conveyed the property to Mary E. and Sarah E. Dayton, the purchase price being $2820.

It is interesting to note that the assessment for the first West State street payment was made against this property in 1885 and the judgment entered was for $169. When a second payment was laid in 1917 the judgment was for $312.

Title to the property passed in September, 1890, from Mary and Sarah Dayton to Lafayette Seeburger and became a part of Mr. Seeburger's estate when his will was probated in January, 1905.

Mrs. Alice Seeburger and the executor of the Seeburger estate in April, 1905, transferred the property to Dr. H. L. Griswold, who has remained the owner until the recent sale to Mr. Batz.

The residence when it was built was one of the most expensive of that day and has been maintained in excellent condition.

PREPARE TO REDEEM WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

Holders of Series of 1918 Requested to Present Them at Postoffice or Any Bank—To Be Paid January 1.

Postmaster R. I. Dunlap announced last night that preparations are being made to redeem the war savings stamps of the issue of 1918.

The government, in order that the work of redemption may be facilitated, requests that all holders of this series of stamps present them either at the postoffice or any of the banks for payment before the first of January.

While payment will not be made until the first of the year, it is desired that the stamps be presented so that the local post office department can fill out the necessary blanks to forward to Washington so that payment may be made promptly. By doing this at once holders of the stamps will help out the local postoffice workers and also assure prompt payment.

Mr. Dunlap said last night that the stamps are payable either in cash or the holders may exchange them for treasury certificates, which are a most desirable investment.

Stamps that are not registered may be presented at either the postoffice or any of the banks. However, the registered bonds can only be taken care of at the postoffice. The local office now has a supply of blanks required by holders which with other information may be secured by calling there.

MRS. ELMER SMITH VICTIM OF HOLDUP

Thief Grabs Purse Containing $40 and Escapes—Holdup Occurred About 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Elmer Smith, 518 South Prairie street, was the victim of a holdup about 6 o'clock Saturday evening when a thief grabbed her purse containing $40 in cash and made his escape.

Mrs. Smith was on her way to the business district and had stopped at the Economy store at the corner of West College and South Prairie streets to pay a bill. After leaving there she continued north in Prairie street. She said she heard someone running behind her but thought it was some boy.

Just as she reached the intersection of South Prairie and West Morgan street a man ran by her at full speed and grabbed her purse. He turned east in Morgan street and then south when he reached South Koscisko street and disappeared.

Mrs. Smith was so surprised, as well as frightened, that she was unable to give any description of the robber or whether he was white or colored. She continued on to the business district, where she called the police station and notified the police. With no description the police were unable to get any trace of the thief.

In the pocketbook the robber secured Mrs. Smith had $30 of her own money and a smaller purse contained $10 which belonged to her daughter.

MOSLEMS OF INDIA EXPRESS SYMPATHY FOR TURKISH CAUSE

Congratulate Kemal Pasha on His Victories
—Wayne Gard, Local Boy, Whites of Attitude of the Moslems of India—Meeting Held in the Town Hall in City of Calcutta

(By The Associated Press)
CALCUTTA.—A strong feeling of sympathy with the Turkish military aims was expressed by Indian Mohammedans at a recent meeting in the Town Hall of Calcutta. The Indians, in their resolutions congratulated Kemal Pasha upon his victories, and condemned the attitude of the British government toward the situation created by the victorious Turks.

The resolutions declared further that the policy of Great Britain with regard to the Greco-Turkish war to be unjust, and that it is bound to create feelings of great dissatisfaction, not merely in India, but throughout the Islamic world. Although the crowded hall was filled mostly with Mohammedans, a number of Hindus were present.

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Huq, who presided over the meeting, condemned the policy of Mr. Lloyd George as being dangerous to the peace of the world, and stated that the Moslem world would not suffer itself to be subjected by any Western power.

"There seems to be a growing feeling among the officials in this country that the only real and active interest which may be felt in the fortunes of Turkey is confined to that section of the Indian community which has declared itself in favor of the non-co-operation movement. In other words, there are many officials who believe that those who have kept aloof from this movement have consented to wipe out from their minds all the memories of the grievous wrongs that have been inflicted on Turkey for more than a century by the European powers, culminating in the imposition on Turkey of the harshest terms of peace ever known in history.

"Now, gentlemen, I wish to make it clear that whether a Mussulman is a non-co-operator or not, he can never cease to be a Mussulman, bound by all those ties of brotherhood which knit together millions of people in Islamic brotherhood.

"No Moslem can cease to have the keenest interest in the fortunes of Turkey, or to be affected by the various turns of fate which have overtaken the brave Turkish people in their struggles for liberty against the aggressive and combined powers of Europe. There are many among the Moslems who have not joined the non-co-operation movement, but who feel as strongly for Turkey as the most ardent Moslem who professes to be a non-co-operator. All Moslems are united in their fellow feelings for the Turks and in that solicitude which they are bound to feel for the maintenance of the honor, power and prestige of the Khalifa of Islam.

"We cannot tolerate Mr. Lloyd George any longer. His latest attitude toward anti-Turkish activities has sent a thrill of indignation through the whole Moslem world. It has shaken the faith of a confident Asia in the honor, integrity and good faith of England. It has exasperated even the most loyal among the Moslems of India. It has driven the youth of Islam to frenzied excitement, even to the point of getting beyond sober control and guidance.

SUDAN PLANS EXTENSIVE IRRIGATION FOR COTTON
Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 25.—(By the A. P.)—Moved by the decrease in Egypt's production of cotton, the Sudan government will resume the irrigation development which came to an end in 1913 owing to financial reasons and labor troubles.

A contract for irrigation, to cost about 10,000,000 pounds, has been taken by an English firm. It is expected that in three years time 300,000 acres of cotton will be under cultivation, producing about 80,000 bales annually. Several thousand natives will find employment under Englishmen as foremen and directors.

RED MAN'S GIFT IS MOST IMPORTANT CROP

Corn Was Given to White Race by Indians—Now is Principal Source of Nation's Food Supply.

WASHINGTON.—Corn, the Red Man's gift to the White Man, has come to be the nation's most important farma crop. Consumed either directly or in the form of meat and other animal products, it is the principal source of the nation's food supply. The 1921 year book of the department of agriculture shows just to what extent the three billion bushel crop forms the basis of the live stock industry. Forty per cent of the crop is fed to swine on farms; 20 per cent to horses and mules on farms; and 15 per cent to cattle on farms. Only ten per cent is used direct for human food.

Corn was one of the most important gifts America made to the rest of the world. The United States now produces about three-fourths of the world's corn crop. That corn also is an important crop in Argentina, Brazil, Mexico and some of the southern European countries, is shown in the report.

Weather, insects and plant disease have a great deal to do with regulating the size of the crop in the United States. The estimated loss caused by common smut alone during the period of 1917-1920, was placed at about 80 millions of bushels annually. Of insect pests the corn-ear worm, where abundant, causes a loss of at least 7 per cent of the grain on the ears attacked. The European corn borer also threatens to take a heavy toll.

It is stated that the production of the corn crop is financed with less borrowed capital than is the case with other staple farm crops. The reason for this is that the farmer's income is distributed throughout the year more evenly than is the case in many other sections, and because the direct investment in the crop consists more of the farmer's own labor and less of purchased material and equipment than is the case in many other crops.

The year book, which is obtainable thru congressional representatives from the department, contains much data of interest and value to producers, including figures in production costs and figures financing, and advice on production according to seasonal supply and demand to act toward preventing future crises for the corn grower.

AUTO MAPS RIVAL OF CALENDARS NOW

CHICAGO, ILL.—Automobile road maps have entered the competitive field of calendars, blotters and almanacs as advertising guides, according to publishers of motor car specialties, who now are printing these guides to the outdoor by millions, because, they say, the modern American no longer is inclined to sit indoors and study dates since the automobile has paved the way to highways and byways when leisure time arrives.

Publishers of calendars, however, declared the demand for their products is undiminished, pointing out that the motorist must spend sometime during his trips for the following season.

First demands for touring guides was supplied by automobile agencies and clubs, collected by touring at considerable cost. As paying progressed, the newspaper took up the work, establishing touring bureaus and printing the progress in road making. This led to the distribution of regional road maps by various newspapers to their readers as advertising mediums. The cartographers discovered that automobiles wanted maps of every sort, while the ever changing character of the roads made new maps mandatory. The heads of various concerns having personal use for the road guides, have ordered them by the thousands when offered in many forms and sizes. Lumber companies, banks, real estate agents, road makers, insurance companies, coal dealers, hotels, resorts and many other businesses are among those keeping busy the map presses.

DIXON, ILL.—The annual convention of the Illinois Firemen's association is to be held in this city January 9, 10 and 11. Representatives of fire departments to the number of 500 are expected to attend the convention. State Fire Marshall Gamber has made reservations for 500 persons from his department. A Chicago delegation has announced that it will arrive in special coaches with a brass band.

Fingers of Grief-Stricken Mute May Send Father to His Death

ALBERT DINELLA AND HIS FATHER, ANTONIO DINELLA

By NEA Service
Kansas City, Kansas.—On the fingers of 14-year-old Albert Dinella rests the fate of his father, Antonio, who is awaiting trial here for the death of his two daughters.

For from these fingers will be made known the result of a test of strength between love of parent and grief over the loss of a life-long helper and companion, according to prosecution officials.

When the case comes up in the Wyandotte county district court, in the term Dec. 4, the tale of a harrowing double murder is expected to come from these fingers. For Albert can neither speak nor hear, and it is on the sign language of the deaf-mute boy that authorities will depend for the conviction—or acquittal—of his father.

What a secret do these fingers hold?

Will the boy be his father's Nemesis or will he save his father from the gallows?

Prosecution attorneys and police believe the boy will be a favorable witness for the prosecution if he knows his father is guilty. For they point to the fact that Albert's life-long and most cherished playmate was one of the victims for whose death Antonio Dinella will be tried.

Helen, twin sister of Albert had been the voice and ears of her brother—until one day last September when her body, hacked and mutilated almost beyond recognition, was found in a sack on a bank of the Kaw River. Only two days before, the headless body of their younger sister Florence had been picked up by police under similar circumstances.

ILLINOIS LEADS IN RED CROSS CHAPTERS

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—Illinois is leading the ten states of the central division in the number of Red Cross chapter rolls in operation, Grant Bergner, Illinois field representative of the American Red Cross, announced here today.

The state has 101 roll calls now in progress, lacking only one of a 100 percent record, Mr. Bergner said. Present reports are very encouraging, he stated, many towns showing a marked increase in membership over that of last year at this time. Detroit is leading the cities of the central division in percentage of increase in membership. The membership roll there is over 30,000 more than at this time last year.

Every Illinois town is going to go over the top, according to present indications, Mr. Bergner declared.

COW GIVES 3,000 GALLONS OF MILK

LONDON.—A British Friesian cow named "Brookside Colantha" over eight years old, is not only producing 3,000 gallons of milk a year, but is working overtime to heat this record.

The cow is milked four times a day, and has frequently given more than 11 gallons in one day. She has had five calves, and has yielded more than 50 times her own weight in milk.

There are said to be 59 "2,000 gallon" cows in this country, of which 55 are British Friesians.

Frank Dodsworth from Shillo and Nate Nell of Arcadia were neighbors of Jacksonville to pay a Saturday call to the city.

HORSE ASSOCIATION TO MEET IN CHICAGO

To Discuss the Position of the Horse in the Present Commercial Life of the Nation.

CHICAGO.—(By The A. P.)—Horses, their treatment and position in the present commercial life of the nation, will occupy major importance in discussions and addresses at the third annual meeting of the Horse Association of America, to be held here December 6, L. J. Elliott of Racine, Wis., will be toastmaster.

Robert McDougal, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, will speak on the "Relation Between Animal Motive Power and the Price of Grain." George W. Dixon, head of a transfer business which today is one of the largest commercial users of horses in the country will describe his experience of forty years with horses in city cartage.

"Equipping 19,000,000 Horses With Up-to-Date Togs" will be the subject of a talk by John W. Gaver, president of a large saddle and harness company.

Conditions in Great Britain and France will be discussed by Arthur B. Hancock, one of America's foremost racing and thoroughbred authorities, who recently returned from a trip thru European stables.

General George V. H. Mosely, commanding officer of the sixth corps area will speak on the horse as used in military work.

SWEDEN UNCOVERS COPPER DEPOSITS

STOCKHOLM.—A discovery of new material wealth in Sweden is announced by Director Axel Gavelin, head of the Government Geological Research Department, who has asked the Riksdag for an appropriation to cover the investigation of the newly-found ore deposits.

These lie in central Sweden, and consists of iron zinc and copper ore. Mr. Gavelin does not give exact details as to the total size of these deposits, but he considers them extremely promising, and says that if further research fulfills his expectations the copper find especially is valuable and will form a national asset of great importance.

The total iron ore deposits of Sweden already known are calculated to contain nearly 1,400,000,000 tons, running an average of 60 percent iron, which is said to be over 23 percent more than the average for all iron ore mined in the rest of Europe, and 16 percent more than the average for the average for the world as a whole.

Although much of Sweden's iron ore is used for the domestic manufacture of iron and steel the export is considerable. In 1913 the total export was six and one half million tons, while last year the figures were four and a half million.

Copper mining and export, which is hundreds of years old in Sweden, has declined of recent years, and the familiar copper ware seen in every Swedish home was in a fair way of becoming valuable antiques. Now, however, a revival of the Swedish copper industry may result from the newly-discovered deposits.

U. OF I. SEES NEW DAIRY RECORDS

URBANA, ILL.—New state and national dairy production records loom on the horizon at the University of Illinois. According to M. H. Campbell of the University's dairy husbandry department the pure bred dairy herd at the university has been improving rapidly.

Raleigh's Sibyl, the cow which made the world's milk record for a living Jersey cow last year, has freshened again, said Mr. Campbell. Although the weather has been very warm, she has produced about sixty-four pounds of milk per day, which is about four pounds above her highest production last year. As a result it is expected that she will increase her production of last year which was 18,847 pounds of milk.

A number of the best Holstein cows will be fresh in a short time. Two of them are the only pair of full sisters in Illinois to have produced above 1,000 pounds of butter in a year. Each of these will be put on test with the expectation of improving her record. Some of the others which will be entered on test have held state records as two or three year old animals, so they will be expected to make much higher productions this year.

There will be fifteen heifers which will freshen for the first time during the fall and winter. As many of these will be entered on test as can be cared for under the present conditions. Since some of them are very well bred it is hoped that they may be able to break more of the state records in addition to those the university has been fortunate enough to obtain a good daughter of King of Chilmark, which is considered one of the greatest bulls of the Guernsey breed.

Mrs. W. H. business visitors here Saturday included Mrs. Ada Barton, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hayes, Mrs. Roy Clark, Principal Lettice, and Miss Jennings of the high school, Mrs. J. H. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, and Mrs. Elbert Seymour.

ENGLISH FARMERS WARNED THAT HARD TIMES ARE AHEAD

Warning is Given in the Last Address of Minister of Agriculture Under Lloyd George —Tells Them That They Can No Longer Follow Lines of Past—Suggests Remedies

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON.—"Agriculture cannot be made to pay any longer in England on the lines followed in the past under present conditions," said Sir Arthur Boscawen in the last speech he made as Minister of Agriculture. While he was talking to the members of the Farmers' Union about the hard times that were inevitably in store for the majority of them, Premier Lloyd George handed in his resignation to the king, and Sir Arthur automatically became an ex-Minister.

His speech, as he admitted himself, contained only "cold comfort for those who had to get their livings from the land." Some farmers, he prophesied, would go under, and there would be acute distress in the country districts before prosperity could return.

"There may be a future for the dairy farmers," he said, "and livestock farming generally may be able to pay fairly well in time, but for the arable farmers—the corn growers—I can see only a gloomy outlook." Referring to the views of one of his predecessors in office, he said: "Lord Ailwyn probably was right in thinking that much arable land will become grass; that the rural districts will be depopulated, and that there will be great misery among farmers and their laborers."

FALL IN EXCHANGE DAMAGING TO U. S.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil.—Representatives of American export houses in this city and elsewhere in Brazil are seriously concerned because of the recent declines in the exchange value of the milreis. At a time when importers had reconciled themselves to the fifty percent reduction in the purchase power of the milreis as compared to the normal, which prevailed at the close of the world war, and were placing orders for merchandise with increasing confidence, there came the slump in the exchange market. From a trifle more than seven milreis to the dollar, the rate dropped in less than a month to about nine.

Many suspensions of orders with American exporters and some cancellations are being reported, with a complete paralysis of further buying. American exporters, who maintained offices here for nearly three years in the expectation that a trade revival sooner or later would come, are facing new discouragements. Two or three companies have decided to close their Brazilian branches at least temporarily, and it is reported that others are considering similar action.

In the meantime, consular reports on ships' manifests show that competitors of American exporters are making desperate efforts to regain their former foothold in the Brazilian markets—and with pronounced success. British exporters of steel, textiles and some lines of hardware, are making big and regular shipment and are taking increasing orders for immediate or quick delivery. The Belgians and Germans also are making headway in the resumption of trade, although the Germans are reported to be having difficulty in their deliveries.

There are many explanations for the fall in exchange, nearly every interested individual has his pet theory, but the representatives of American export houses are more interested in signs of recovery, because, until such recovery comes, business will remain in its present state of stagnation.

In the meantime the pessimists predict future gloom, while the optimists are declaring, that the slump is only temporary; that Brazil's resources are great, and that recovery is certain.

EXPERIMENT WITH AIR IS COMPLETED

URBANA, ILL.—An investigation of air-steam mixtures, the outgrowth of a previous investigation of the reheating of compressed air, has been completed by A. L. Wilson and C. R. Richards of the engineering experiment station at the University of Illinois. Mr. Richards is dean of the college of Engineering at the university. The earlier investigation was reported by the experiment station to have demonstrated that air-steam mixtures have greater thermal efficiency in an engine operating expansively than have either air or steam used separately. The station is issuing a bulletin, number 131, which in reporting the later investigation gives further details relative to air-steam mixtures.

Chapin Saturday shoppers here included Mr. and Mrs. Albert Unken, E. C. Anderson, Carl Unken, Mr. and Mrs. James Moody, Herman De Grote, D. H. Smith, Miss Grace Stone and Mrs. F. M. Roberts.

FARM RESIDENCES FOR INDUSTRIAL USES

URBANA.—The time is not far distant when the value of straws, corn stalks, corn cobs, and other crop residues will be much greater for industrial uses than their value as carriers of plant food elements and organic matter for soil improvement. This is the conclusion of Professor O. L. Writing of the College of Agriculture of the University of Illinois.

Certain of these crop residues are rich in cellulose, sugars, and similar materials from which alcohol, acetone, and other organic solvents may be cheaply made by bacterial fermentation he says. Corn, potatoes, rice, and other starchy materials are being used at the present time for the production of certain of these compounds.

With changing market and economic conditions, the coarser materials, such as the straws and stalks, will be sought for the manufacture of these solvents and other products. The increasing consumption of gasoline, coupled with possible exhaustion of the supply in the next decade, further emphasizes the important place which crop residues will fill from the standpoint of the country's production of motor power.

The question is sometimes raised as to the effect of not returning these materials to the soil. It may be readily answered by stating that ample quantities of leguminous materials (particularly sweet clover) have been shown to be much more effective in increasing crop yields than straw and corn stalks and other high cellulose containing materials.

RECORDS SHOW FEWER MARRIAGES

Bloomington, Ill.—The records indicate that there are fewer marriages in McLean county this year than there were 10 years ago. In 1912 765 licenses were issued. In 1920 and 1921 there were 800 issued for each year. But there have been issued to date this year only a few more than which is considerably below the number for the corresponding date last year. The marriage license clerk estimates the record will be 150 licenses short by the end of the year.

WORSHIP OF WHITE ELEPHANT DISCARDED

BANGKOK, SIAM. — White elephants are losing prestige in Siam, the country which made them famous. Although several of these animals are kept in captivity in Bangkok, the capital, they are no longer revered by the people as in former days.

The possession of one or more white elephants was considered as one of the necessities of kingship by the early rulers of Siam and the other countries of the Malay peninsula. Disputes over ownership were the cause of recent wars. In the sixteenth century, for instance, Bayin Saung, king of Burma, demanded a white elephant from the king of Siam. Upon being refused, he invaded the country and captured the royal family and three white elephants. According to one of the Siamese legends, Gautama Buddha was once a white elephant and his mother, in a dream, met him in heaven in that shape.

No elephants are entirely white. The so-called white elephants are only little lighter in color than ordinary elephants. Sometimes one has a few white hairs on the head or tail.

In olden days, the discovery of a white elephant was a source of great joy to the people. After the animal had been teathered with silken cords, news would be sent to the king. Then a body of nobles would visit the place and escort the elephant, in stately procession, to the capital where a place would be erected for it.

After a period of fasting, the elephant would be given covers of velvet and silk, embroidered with gold and precious stones. A gold plate, bearing his name and titles, would be fastened on his head. Slaves, priests, musicians and dancing-girls were set apart for his amusement. The finest vegetables and fruits were given him as food.

But nowadays white elephants have gone out of style. At the present time they are brought to Bangkok by train, without any guard of honor. They are housed in ordinary stables, with no priests or dancing-girls in attendance. Hay, leaves and young bamboos are given them to eat. The white elephant now lives the same work-a-day life as his darker-skinned fellows, through in the legends of the Siamese and in their national flag he will be honored for centuries to come.

A Car Without a Compromise

Panel Steel Body—Seats Four—$1445

To be really complete, a closed car must combine fine body work and appointments with a thoroughly dependable and highly efficient chassis. There can be no compromise in either equipment or mechanics.

When you examine the interior of the Jewett Coupe you will find that the equipment is indeed complete. The upholstery is both beautiful and lasting. Right at your hand you will find every accessory that makes closed car motoring a real luxury.

And, under the body, is a chassis of tremendous strength and performing ability. There you will find the smoothest of six-cylinder motors and driving parts that defy the severest tests of real punishment.

Such is the Jewett Coupe—a thing of beauty when parked in front of your home and the most reliable of companions on the highway. And, though you might expect to pay $800 or $1030 more, for these fine car luxuries, the price is $1445 f. o. b. Detroit.

It is sold and serviced by Paige dealers everywhere.

WORSHIP OF WHITE ELEPHANT DISCARDED

BANGKOK, SIAM.—White elephants are losing prestige in Siam, the country which made them famous. Although several of these animals are kept in captivity in Bangkok, the capital, they are no longer revered by the people as in former days.

The possession of one or more white elephants was considered as one of the necessities of kingship by the early rulers of Siam and the other countries of the Malay peninsula. Disputes over ownership were the cause of recent wars. In the sixteenth century, for instance, Bayin Nangue, king of Burma, demanded a white elephant from the king of Siam. Upon being refused, he invaded the country and captured the royal family and three white elephants. According to one of the Siamese legends, Gautama Buddha was once a white elephant and his mother, in a dream, met him in heaven in that shape.

No elephants are entirely white. The so-called white elephants are only little lighter in color than ordinary elephants.

Sometimes one has a few white hairs on the head or tail.

In olden days, the discovery of a white elephant was a source of great joy to the people. After the animal had been feathered with silken cords, news would be sent to the king. Then a body of nobles would visit the place and escort the elephant, in stately procession, to the capital where a place would be erected for it.

After a period of fasting the elephant would be given covers of velvet and silk, embroidered with gold and precious stones. A gold plate, bearing his name and titles, would be fastened on his head. Slaves, priests, musicians and dancing-girls were set apart for his amusement. The finest vegetables and fruits were given him as food.

But nowadays white elephants have gone out of style. At the present time they are brought to Bangkok by train, without any guard of honor. They are housed in ordinary stables, with no priests or dancing-girls in attendance. Hay, leaves and young bamboo are given them to eat. The white elephant now lives the same work-a-day life as his darker-skinned fellows, though in the legends of the Siamese and in their national flag he will be honored for centuries to come.

A Car Without a Compromise

Panel Steel Body—Seats Four—$1445

To be really complete, a closed car must combine fine body work and appointments with a thoroughly dependable and highly efficient chassis. There can be no compromise in either equipment or mechanics.

When you examine the interior of the Jewett Coupe, you will find that the equipment is indeed complete. The upholstery is both beautiful and lasting. Right at your hand you will find every accessory that makes closed car motoring a real luxury.

And, under the body, is a chassis of tremendous strength and performing ability. There you will find the smoothest of six-cylinder motors and driving parts that defy the severest tests of real punishment.

Such is the Jewett Coupe—a thing of beauty when parked in front of your home and the most reliable of companions on the highway. And, though you might expect to pay $800 or $1000 more, for these fine car luxuries, the price is $1445 f. o. b. Detroit.

MEREDOSIA WOMAN OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Belle Savage Celebrates Eighty-Ninth Birthday Anniversary—Other Meredosia Items of Interest.

MEREDOSIA, Nov. 24.—Mrs. Belle Savage celebrated her eighty-ninth birthday recently in a very pleasant manner. About thirty of her friends and neighbors assembled in the annex of the M. E. church especially in her honor and spent a delightful social evening with her.

The first part of the evening was spent in devotional services, after which Mrs. Sarah Moore presented Mrs. Savage with a silver donation amounting to $20. Beside this gift there were numerous jars of fruit, cookies and other dainties. In a few well chosen words the recipient expressed her thankfulness to all who had joined in making this such a happy occasion. The remainder of the evening was spent socially, closing with the serving of refreshments of peaches and whipped cream, cake, doughnuts and coffee. At a late hour all departed wishing Mrs. Savage more happy birthdays.

YANKS and LEGIONAIRES

Forceful Facts Concerning the Interests of Former Soldiers, Sailors and Marines.

There are 5500 non-commissioned officers in the American army.

China, with a population of 340,000,000, has a military manpower of 15,000,000.

The enlisted personnel of the United States navy for 1922 is estimated at 86,000,000 men.

The French army with 660,000 men is said to be the best equipped military forces in Europe.

The Atlantic and Pacific fleets will combine for joint battle maneuvers in the Pacific Ocean next February.

California, Illinois, Iowa and Kansas passed bonus measures for soldiers of the World War at the recent elections.

Texas leads all other states in the number of surviving Confederate veterans. There are 14,969 on the pension rolls, and 256 in homes.

Seven-eighths of the territory of Europe was directly involved in the World War. Four-fifths of North America was engaged in the struggle.

Soldiers of the British army eat 51 cents worth of food per day. The cost of ration per day to a private in the French army is 63 cents.

The central design of the new 50-cent postage stamp is a view of the Arlington amphitheater, with the tomb of the unknown soldier's dead in the foreground.

The Congressional Medal of Honor emblem of the highest military decoration of the United States, was recently bestowed on an unknown and unidentified Belgian soldier.

Germany now has a population estimated at 60,282,000. Her active army is 100,000. Her trained reserve is 4,900,000 of which number approximately 500,000 are organized.

One hundred and sixty-one American women died in the World war. Most of them are buried under French soil, some in far-off Siberia, Armenia, China and Manila, and others in England.

There are more policemen in the United States than there are soldiers in the regular army. Civilian peace officers number 229,887, while the enlisted personnel in military departments totals 125,000.

In Belgium 13,000 people, more than two thirds of the pre-war population, have returned to Ypres. Many are living in cellars and temporary huts, while the rebuilding proceeds as fast as possible.

After two years of training, Edward Rarmer, of Yonkers, N. Y., 20 years old, has been accepted for enlistment in the United States army. Two years ago Rarmer tried to enlist, but was refused because he was underweight.

The United States has fewer than 2000 unidentified and unknown dead of the World War. This is 1-2 per cent of the total killed. Forty-six thousand bodies have been returned to this country, and 13 per cent of these now rest in Arlington Cemetery.

War mothers of Philadelphia, Pa., have written to the Secretary of War urging the posting of a sentry at the tomb of the unknown soldier in Arlington cemetery. The purpose is to guard against irreverence of careless pilgrims to the shrine of the heroic dead.

An estimate made in behalf of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace shows that the cost of the World War exceeded $335,000,000,000. This amount is equal to the combined wealth of the United States, France and Great Britain when the war began.

The first convention of the Blind Veterans of the World War, recently held in Baltimore, Md., was attended by 100 men, some of them partially blind, and half of them, at least totally blind. They came from all over the country—Maine, Montana, Texas, Arizona, and Missouri answering in turn to the roll-call.

According to estimates, the amount of barbed wire made in Germany during the World War would be sufficient to make a barbed wire hedge 70 feet high and 255 inches thick all the way around the republic. The sand bags turned out would, if filled, make a wall nearly 10 feet high and 6 1-2 feet thick reaching from Berlin to Constantinople.

Saying "he had enough of the army" in five years' service the late John H. Ellis, of Orange, N. J., who recently died from the effect of gas, made a request for a civilian funeral. Ellis was in the First American Division in the World War, served in all the major engagements in France, was twice wounded, and received five citations. His foreign service stripes and the American flag on his coffin were the only American details.

When Did Miss Fagan Stop?

Right here in Jacksonville, in Northminster church last Thursday, a large audience found itself unable to tell when the living artist stopped whistling and the Re-Creation of her art was begun by the New Edison. Only by watching her lips closely could the most critical music-lover distinguish which was performing, so perfectly did the phonograph Re-Creation the work of the artist.

Sibyl Sanderson Fagan, famous whistler, performed in the Auditorium in direct comparison with the remarkable New Edison. If you were there, you know that there was no difference between the tone of the artist and the phonograph—the selection alternately performed by Miss Fagan in person and Re-Created at intervals by the New Edison, flowed swiftly along with uniform quality of tone.

Similar tests were made by George Wilton Ballard, tenor, and Harold Lyman, flutist and saxophonist, with the same marvelous results.

No other phonograph dares to attempt such a test. Yet this is the only way in which the public can be sure beyond a doubt that there is a phonograph that actually Re-Creates music.

By this drastic test, the New Edison alone has proved that it can give you the real performance of master-musicians.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph With a Soul"

The instrument used in the test at Northminster church was not a special model. Any Official Laboratory Model in our stock will absolutely meet the same test—it is guaranteed to do so.

Let us play this phonograph for you in further tests. And let us tell you how easy it is to own one, with a very small outlay of cash.

About two per cent of automobile accidents are caused by defective machinery, such as defective brakes, loss of control, etc.; about twenty five per cent is attributed to speeding and recklessness, and approximately fifty per cent to defective vision. Many drivers of machines admit, that they did not see the other car until it was too late to stop.

The three defects causing most of the accidents due to faulty vision are far and near sightedness complicated by astigmatism and a reversed vision and night blindness.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

Success has come to some of the alumnae of the Woman's College in their political activities. At the last election Mrs. Minnie Sibert Ide was elected county superintendent of schools of Park county, Wyoming; Cody is the county seat. Miss Susan Rebban of the class of 1905 was the campaign manager for Judge Florence Allen of Ohio, who was elected to the supreme bench of that state. Miss Rebban had headquarters at the Statler Hotel, in Cleveland, where she directed the activities of the campaign. The National Board of the Young Woman's Christian Association, under whose auspices Miss Rebban was working, released her from her duties on the Pacific coast in order that she might conduct this campaign. Miss Rebban was very familiar with the situation in Ohio, as she had been connected with the state work for some time before going to the Pacific coast.

The luncheon for alumnae and former students held at Camp on Friday, the 24th, was unusually well attended. Many representatives were there from the various schools and enjoyed the delightful reunion. The luncheon was held at the South tea room. Both President Harker and Miss Miriam McOmber were present, as well as Professor Mary Johnston who had a paper at the conference.

The college is in receipt of a most interesting collection of letters written by Miss Cornelia Young, who has recently returned to America from a most strenuous sojourn in Soviet Russia. Miss Young went as a representative of the American Friends Society, which co-operated with that of the British society in bringing relief to some of the districts in southern Russia. Miss Young's home is in Kansas City and she has a brother, Dr. W. A. Young, who is living in Springfield on South Fifth street. It is hoped that it will be possible for her to visit the college before long and talk to the faculty and students on some of her experiences.

Much interest is shown in the concluding games in the Hockey tournament. The finals will be played on Thanksgiving morning, when the championship of the college will be determined.

President Harker spent the week in attending conferences in Chicago in connection with the work of the various Boards of Benevolence of the M. E. church. The friends of the college were shocked to learn of the sudden death of Mr. H. B. Prentice, who was formerly a member of the Board of Trustees of the college and who was always interested in the work of the school. Mr. Prentice was at the time of his death one of the trustees of the Buck estate and was active in the affairs of the Methodist church.

Dr. Kirby, representing the Near East, was a very interesting speaker at the chapel exercises on Thursday. His talk was principally on the political conditions of the affairs that have been taking place recently, and gave his listeners a much better idea of the actual situation, than could be secured in any other way. It is hoped to have Dr. Kirby at the college when he returns to Jacksonville the early part of December.

The mid semester grades were mailed out to every one on the 25th. Only the grades for new students were received.

Next week end the college is joining with Illinois college in entertaining the Student Volunteer conference. This is one of the largest conferences ever entertained by the students of Jacksonville, as there will be delegates from practically all the colleges of central and southern Illinois. There will be a number of good speakers at the conference and it is expected that the two days and a half will be full of comradeship and inspiration.

PRIVATE RAILROADS WANT COMPETITION

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 25.—(By The Associated Press).—Privately owned railroads should welcome the competition of a government owned and managed trans-continental railway system, Charles Dillon, of the Western Presidents' Committee on public relations, told members of the Trans-Missouri Passenger Club of Omaha here recently.

In discussing the proposition of Senator-Elect R. B. Howell of Nebraska, to take over enough railroads to make one trans-continental line to force down freight and passenger rates by competition, Mr. Dillon said privately owned lines should show profits in the face of such opposition.

"The only thing private railroads have to fear from such a demonstration," said Dillon, "is that the government railway would fix rates and incur operating expenses with a reckless disregard for the losses that would result and that would have to be paid by the taxpayers."

As an example, the Canadian government's experience in government competition with private lines was given by Mr. Dillon. The Canadian-Pacific railroad, charging the same rates as government railways, has been able to pay dividends continuously while government roads have added to the public debt more than $600,000,000 since 1914, he said.

"Anyone sincerely concerned in improving the transportation facilities of this country should find no difficulty in discovering that the present situation is the result of twelve or fifteen years regulation by federal and state governments," he said. "These regulations and laws and agreements with labor, have cut down incomes while increasing the outgo and have served to discourage investors to the point that roads most in need of it have found it almost impossible to obtain new capital for development."

BEER BEST FOR

MIXING PAINT
Chicago, Ill.—Malcom C. Fitch of Chicago, maker and finisher of children's furniture, maintains that beer is the best and least expensive foundation for a primary coat of paint.

I pour it into my colors for mixing," Mr. Fitch explained. "when I have applied upon the primary coat to the children's furniture I make, I stencil upon it pictures of earths, moons, suns, stars and fairies. All this I do in my little basement workshop. I make the children happy and incidentally I make real beer really useful."

Any old pine board will serve to make furniture for the little folk. To make a chair, cut a piece 12" x 12" for the seat, strips 1" wide for runs and 1-1/2 wide by 18" high for legs. The back, 21" high, should be supported by two 10" cross bars, and should have a panel for the fairy stencil. Use any color of automobile enamel for finish.

Wellington, N. Z.—Wiremu Ratana, the Maori miracle man of New Zealand, is reported to be about to enter politics.

Ratana came under world notice about two years ago as a worker of miracles in healing. Unlike the usual healer, however, he shunned publicity and continued to work on his farm, teaching his people industry and temperance. He denounced the ancient Maori wizardry, and ascribed his powers solely to faith in the Divine Power. The Anglican Church went so far as to approve the work he was doing among the Maori.

Ratana is now believed to be backing the movement of four of his followers to contest the Maori seats at the next general election in December. He is being criticized for the alleged use of his spiritual powers in the material field of politics.

COLLEGE OF MUSIC NOTES

The Saturday morning monthly recitals for children will be resumed on December 2nd; more formal concerts will be held on December 14th and 15th for intermediates and high school students, while the younger pupils will be heard on December 16th.

Mrs. Martin was accompanist for Mrs. Strang, violinist, at a recent meeting of the D. A. R. Wilhelmina Speth played solos at the Northminster Presbyterian church Sunday school.

Elizabeth Graff was recently asked to play at the Junior high school assembly last week.

Catherine Goebel gave a piano solo recently at the Junior High school assembly.

Dr. Heinrich, who gave the inauguration recital on the new organ at the Central Christian church, was the guest of Director in bringing the well known musician, who was instrumental in bringing the organ to Jacksonville.

The annual recital given by Miss Sapiro and Miss Horsch, will be held on Monday, November 27th. At that time several numbers will be heard that are probably entirely new to Jacksonville, as well as the more familiar classics. The Grieg Sonata, for violin and piano has been carefully studied under the direction of Leopold Auer, Adele Margules and Dr. Tertius Noble, and should give evidence of the performers' constant work together. Valentinia Crespi, Italian violinist, who will appear on December 11th at the third concert at the Artist Series, has on her father's side the musical temperament of Italy, on her mother's the passionate music of Roumania. Titles in Europe and America win in praising her brilliant technique and sonorous tone, added to beauty of style and passionate feeling. James Hamilton, who will appear on the same program, is a Southerner, who has studied in New York, Chicago and Ann Arbor. During the last five years he has sung before a million people including critical audiences in the large art centers. His exceptional musical gifts are accompanied by a manly personality which forms a fitting background for his exceptional artistic talent.

READ A BOOK TONIGHT

London, Charmain. Our Hawaii Islands and Islanders. This is the best recent book on Hawaii, in a new and revised edition full of bright illustrations. Our Hawaii was one of the first travel books on the South Seas and has been very popular all the time. This new edition is ever better, and has a new preface by Mrs. London and a new essay by Jack London entitled, "My Hawaiian Alpha." Also a new essay by Mrs. London entitled, "Hawaii, 1921," and many revisions throughout the text bringing the book up to date. The tourist will find this book invaluable and the stay-at-home person may spend many a delightful evening in reading it. This is a real guide to that wonderful Pacific Paradise and will be enjoyed by young and old alike. Get it at the Public Library.

Wells, H. G. Washington and the Middle of Peace. This is a complete record of the Conference at Washington day by day. Probably no other observer of that famous assemblage of notable diplomats had so rich a background upon which the proceedings of the Conference as this famous author who wrote this book. These chapters are not only timely and attractively written but are also of permanent value because they are the product of a sound well informed thinking. This book is valuable to teachers and students and very interesting for the general reader also. Get it at the Public Library.

Smith, William Hawley. Children By Chance or By Choice. The author maintains that with nature and man working together and in harmony, conditions will some day be established which will make it certain that every soul born into this world will enter it by the gate of definite purpose and assurance rather than the portal of chance. The book is written with much courage and the science of procreation of the human species has been studied and mastered by this author. Get it at the Public Library.

COLORFUL TRIBUTE PAID TO FIELD

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—(By The Associated Press.)—In a colorful tribute, replete with reminiscences of days when they were associated together in the newspaper field, Charles H. Dennis, managing editor of the Chicago Daily News, pictured "Eugene Field as a Journalist" before the Medill School of Journalism recently. Declaring that Field abhorred stagnation, and that his whole career was a growth, Mr. Dennis added that success could not satisfy Field "until it had been built upon pure and tender thoughts that live in human hearts."

"In a little cubbyhole in a corner of the big editorial room of the Daily News, Field had his office. Arriving at the office he would get his scissors, tuck an old cigar box under his arm and prowl thru the exchanges to accumulate a sufficient amount of 'fodder,' as he called it, for his column."

"Getting ready to write was a ceremony for Field. He took off his coat, which was replaced with a shapeless, baggy old garment. On his feet he placed a pair of ancient slippers and he rolled his trousers far above his ankles. Sitting sideways in his chair, he elevated his feet upon his desk, took a square of stiff cardboard, placed a heavy ruled sheet upon it and a blank piece of paper over that and with a fine nibbed pen that made a hair line wrote his famous paragraphs."

"To me the most fascinating thing about the career of Field was the marked evidence of continuous growth that he presented all along the way. He was sure of himself at all times and he was equally sure that his mental powers were steadily developing. While the keynote of Field's methods for making laughter was audacity, he wielded a terrible lash against sham, hypocrisy and crookedness generally."

White Hall Plans for Community Christmas

First Steps Taken For Community Celebration at Banquet of Baptist Church S. S.—Other White Hall News.

White Hall, Nov. 24.—White Hall is to have a community Christmas, according to plans outlined Thursday night at the monthly banquet of the men's class of the First Baptist Sunday school, held in the Fox undertaking rooms. There were sixty present. The leading speaker was Attorney F. A. Relsner of Granite City, and there was a short address by E. C. Pearce on the proposed constitution for Illinois, who is opposed to its passage by the voters on December 12th. The Christmas affair is to be carried out strictly on a community basis.

Ward L. Hull is in Urbana attending the Ohio-Illinois game while the state testator is making his monthly visit of inspection to the Hull herd of Jersey cattle. This work is in charge of F. W. Bowman of the University of Illinois.

A near accident occurred at the Sherman street crossing of the C. & N. W. as a car driven by Miss Nell Gilmore was crossing the track in company with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Della Gilmore. The engine of the south bound local freight was easing down the siding as the girls were driving onto the track, and they jumped from the car as the engine gently struck the car and gave it a jerk that left a substantial mark on one side. This is a crossing where a watchman is maintained, and it is claimed that drivers are more careful at protected crossings.

For upwards of twenty-five years J. H. Lord has been visiting White Hall as passenger representative of the Illinois Central railroad with headquarters at Springfield. This is the best picture yet received in America of Turkish troops serving under Mustafa Kemal Pasha. Their well-dressed, well-disciplined appearance and their modern equipment and arms tell why Kemal routed the Greeks and now is causing the allies serious concern.

Thanksgiving Menus and How to Serve Them

The following paper was given by Mrs. Carl E. Robinson before the members of the Household Science at the meeting held during the past week. The paper is of special interest at this season and as Thanksgiving day draws near, the hostess will find it very helpful.

"As our Thanksgiving day approaches we of course look forward with a great deal of pleasure to the gathering of our nearest and dearest to us. Then too we cast our thoughts back for a century or two and feel so humbled and thankful to those who were instrumental in setting aside this day, the last Thursday in November, as a day of thanks.

To be sure we all look forward to the tempting dishes which are so delightfully and generously spread before us. There are certain dishes at Thanksgiving that we miss if they are not forthcoming. The turkey for instance is always thought of as a Thanksgiving bird.

As we enter the dining room what can look more pleasing than a table spread with good linens, sterling silver, sparkling glassware, a pretty centerpiece and a tempting entree or cocktail. For the first course there are many kinds of entrees such as cream of tomatoes, tomato bouillon, Bisque of oyster, and fruit cocktails. I have in mind a cocktail made of shredded pineapple, grapefruit and orange all of which has been carefully skinned, seeded, and neatly shaped and sweetened to taste. A small serving of this in your older or shirbert glasses, garnished with a marishino cherry, set in a small service plate is most inviting. Then there are the Shellfish cocktails such as oysters, on the half shell, clam, lobster or Crab meat cocktail. These served with celery hearts or fringed celery and olives are most tempting for the first course.

Then one is prepared for something more substantial. Remove the first course dishes and then adorn your table with a well done, golden brown turkey, garnished with parsley and frills on the ankles, so to speak. Of course there is something to be said about the dressing. There are many different dressings such as oysters, celery, bread and chestnut. To me chestnut dressing is by far the best. With the fowl course you may add peas in timbales, creamed mashed potatoes, glazed sweet potatoes, griblet gravy, scalloped oysters, cranberry sauce, peach pickles and rolls.

SMOKERS CAUSE OF MANY FIRES

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—(By A. P.)—Smokers who discard the fag-ends of their smokes without thought of where they may light and careless users of matches were declared the principal cause of fires in Illinois in October by the monthly report of State Fire Marshal John G. Gamber.

"Matches and smoking are credited with starting 166 fires, the largest number due to any one cause," said Mr. Gamber. "While some other causes resulted on a larger loss in dollars and cents, the loss due to this cause was $48,212. The total fire loss for the state for the month was $1,307,980.

"Electricity was responsible for the largest damage with $181,643. Exposure or adjoining fires, cost $73,471.

"Although October was a mild month, firing up on chilly days made a showing of $97,772 in the fire loss record. These fires were caused by such things as defective or overheated flues, sparks on shingle roofs, defective or overheated stoves and furnaces, hot steam and water pipes, and the like.

"The largest losses occurred in the following kinds of buildings:

First Organizer of Gas Plant Foolish

CHICAGO.—Frederick Albert Winsor, organizer of the first gas company in England in 1812, was jested and derided for his "foolish ideas," by some of the most intelligent men of his time, according to the Illinois committee on Public Utility.

Winsor, following up the experiments of other scientists before him, gave several public demonstrations in London in his attempts to commercialize the new discovery. Sir Walter Scott is quoted as saying: "There is a madman proposing to light London with—what do you think? Why, with smoke.

Actors in the music halls poked fun at the tireless inventor and promoter and a humorous writer breezily quipped Winsor and his claim in a poem which was applauded in London's music halls.

Despite this he succeeded in organizing the first gas company in London in April, 1812, and on December 31, 1813, Westminster bridge was lighted with gas and the populace of London was dumfounded by the spectacle. Lamplights at first refused, however, to light the new gas lamps and later crowds followed them to watch their operations every evening.

Introduction of gas lights in Rembrandt Peale's museum in Baltimore in 1816 proved to be such a sensation and success that it led to the organization of a gas company and the lighting of the streets of that city with gas. The light in the museum proved to be even a greater attraction than the skeleton of a mastodon, which, up to that time, had been the chief feature of the museum.

The first recorded demonstration of gas in the United States was in Philadelphia in Aug. 1786, when gas was manufactured by M. Ambrose and Company, Italian fireworks and artists. In Richmond, Virginia, in 1803, a rusee gas lamp was erected on a forty foot tower which for a time attracted much attention.

In 1812, David Melville of New York, R. I., lighted his home and the street front with gas which he manufactured. He also lighted a factory at Pawtucket and induced the government to use gas at Beaver Tail Light house.

Gas was first used for street lighting. Later public buildings were lighted in this way and few wealthy citizens also lighted their homes with gas. Progress was slow for many years and rates were high, making its use prohibitive to all except the rich. Everybody used candles or sperm oil lamps for home illumination.

As late as 1865 the kerosene lamp was put on the market. It met with wide favor because of its cheapness and improved light. Not until between 1865 and 1875 did the use of gas for home lighting begin to make any great progress.

GREENE COUNTY LODGE MEMBERS HAD BANQUET

Royal Neighbors Enjoyed Banquet at White Hall Church Friday Evening.

WHITE HALL, Nov. 25.—There was a large gathering of Royal Neighbors Friday night in the basement of the Presbyterian church, where an elaborate program was carried out in the interest of the campaign in Illinois to add 10,000 to the membership. There was an address by Mrs. Dell Newton of Peoria, supervising deputy, and each of four committees put on a play in the form of a comedy. This was a happy idea in the amount of fun produced, each committee vying to excel in the funmaking.

There was a vocal number by Mrs. Curtis Brown, and a recitation by Mrs. F. N. McLaren. Two applications were presented, making twenty upon which the local camp will soon take action in the way of ushering them into membership. Each of the twelve camps of the county made reports.

There were 120 present, including 19 from Roodhouse, 11 from Hillview, 10 from Eldred, and a number from Carrollton and scattering camps. A banquet concluded the affair, and the facilities for holding such an event were found to be the best in the county.

This Triumvirate Rules America's Joys

Here are three men who are all-powerful in moulding the thought of America. On the left is Will H. Hays, director general of motion pictures and on the right, Augustus Thomas, czar of the stage. Listening to their advice is Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, high commissioner of baseball. They gathered at the dinner of the Friars' Club in New York.

The Nichols Park Golf Course By Cole Y. Rowe

The work on the new Nichols Park Golf course is rapidly being brought to a conclusion by Jack Keywood, professional, and two assistants. The enormous amount of work projected during the season by the municipal club under Mr. Keywood's supervision, has been carried forward rapidly during the past two months on actions. When the flags fly next spring for the opening of the count of favorable weather conditions, it will be one of the most artistic and finest nine hole playing courses in the state of Illinois.

The first hole on the course has undergone less alterations than perhaps any other hole. A slight raise has been made towards the back of the first green giving it a finishing touch. The greatest improvement on the hole is the beautiful clump of trees which the Park Board has set out at the right of the first green. When these trees reach their growth, the green will be set in a more beautiful surrounding than any on the course. This construction comprises one of the most modern methods of green building; namely, that the greens surrounded by trees and shrubbery begin to be shaded at 2:30 in the afternoon. This permitting watering earlier in the day as well as welcome shade for players.

The second green has been built at a greater expense than any green on the course. It was built two years ago, but never put into play up to the present time, on account of unfavorable experience with grasses on the putting surface. Since Sept. 1st, by hand cultivation of the surface, it has been greatly improved and is now in best of condition. This green will be ready for hard play next spring.

Number 2 green possesses a putting surface 31x75 feet. A bank of 10 feet descends at south side of green which will be kept closely trimmed down which will descend a series of steps to the lower level. At the southwest corner stands one of the most beautiful white elms in the park, which offers protecting shade early in the afternoon.

Passing on to hole No. 3, Mr. Keywood has here modeled an entirely new green. He has taken as a pattern, the 5th hole of the championship course at Deal, England. The size of the green is 60x63 and it is cut into side of slight raise with steep banks running up to it on the left. Sand pits at both the back and forward corners of the left side make very creditable play necessary. To complete the green, slight lips have been molded on the right corners making the approach thru a narrow entrance way.

The sod already laid on the bank is in healthy green condition and the putting surface sowed with the best obtainable chewing fescue shows a good stand. This green has added 18 yards to the length of the hole.

The new fourth hole was surveyed and laid out by the greens committee early last spring. It was constructed in the spring, completed and sowed down in August with very best New Zealand seed.

This grass germinated rapidly and is so far advanced that it will go thru the winter in splendid condition. The plan of this hole was made from a model of the 17th green on Surrey Hills Golf Club, Crestwood, Eng. Surrey Hills is one of the five English Championship courses and the 17th green is said to be one of the most beautiful in the world. This 4th hole of the Nichols Park course comprises a saucer shape dip at the crest of a hill. The green is reached over the water and roadway and up an incline into an alley of beautiful trees. This green will, also, be put into play for first time spring.

When the course is opened in the fifth hole was started last June it was thought to be an almost endless task, but with the co-operation of the Park Board in supplying dirt, the work was rapidly carried forward with result that the green was ready for sowing down by middle of September. Grass came thru rapidly and is now in excellent condition. There still remains some trimming up to be done on the banks, but in spite of this play will be taken off the temporary and placed on this new green when course opens next spring. This green, also, has a very large surface and its setting is well high perfect from the viewpoint of landscape architecture, being surrounded by beautiful trees which in no way interfere with the play.

Radical change has also been made in the 6th tee. This has been moved back several yards adding distance to the hole. The shot from this tee will be a difficult one and must be started low to avoid right and left.

On account of the other important work, Mr. Keywood has not attempted any changes in the 6th green. He has had clay models made for some time of a new green at this point. The building of this cannot be carried out until next year.

The 7th hole has been lengthened over 23 yards by the building of an entirely new green. In the construction of this hole which is a focal point on the course, care has been taken to protect players on the green from tee shots from No. 6, as well as afford practically no chance of over driving this hole. The work on this was not started until October and Mr. Keywood and his men are now busy completing the sodding of this bank and spading in surface of green so that it may be sowed down early in March and ready for play the first of June.

Play on the 8th hole has been on the temporary for the entire 1922 season. The new 8th green was in reality ready to open, Sept. 1st, but the greens committee decided in order to toughen up the turf it would not be advisable to open play on this until May 1st, 1923. This green will be ready for opening the first of next season.

A series of experiments have been carried on by the municipal golf club in the seeding of greens and the sodding down of greens. The results of these experiments will be invaluable to the club next season.

Mr. Keywood is also establishing a turf bed in which he is raising a fine turf for patching and replanting work. A compost bed also been made so that the club hereafter will have ample supply of black loam, leaves and manure well mixed and rotted.

There is practically no change of hole No. 9 of the course owing to the splendid natural character of this hole and the fact that the ninth green was in perfect condition last season, no changes are contemplated. A heavy top dressing is being placed on this green to carry thru the winter in good condition.

The annual meeting of the municipal golf club will be held in December. The club has extended an invitation to Mr. Robert W. McKinley, one of the county commissioners of Cook county and chairman of the municipal golf association, to deliver the main address. Mr. McKinley's home is in Chicago and he is one of the most authoritative speakers in the country on the subject of golf. Reports of the officers and greens chairman will be made at this meeting. The work will be reviewed and report of the tournament committee will be made covering 8 or 10 contests and matches staged during the 1922 season. Prizes will be formally presented to winners of these matches.

It will also be decided as to the opening of an indoor golf school in Jacksonville beginning Jan. 1st. There has been a demand for such a school but no official action as yet has been taken. White Hall has offered Mr. Keywood a proposition to conduct an indoor school in that city. If Mr. Keywood accepts the White Hall offer he will carry it on in connection with the school in Jacksonville. A new course is being contemplated in White Hall for the coming year.

Some Varieties in Transportation

Three unusual methods of transportation are shown in these pictures from different parts of the earth. Above is a photo from China showing the use of balloons to tow river boats when shallow water is reached.

British soldiers (right) have devised a novel train to carry their battery from Spun Head to Kinsea, England. A sail, attached to a hand-car, provides the power. Parisians have recently been startled by the "Bois Rose," a Seine boat which, without sail or motor, travels speedily by means of this propeller whenever a fair breeze is blowing.

LOCAL ODD FELLOWS VISITED MEREDOSIA

Make Another of Visits Which Have Been Planned to the Lodges of Morgan County.

The Odd Fellows of Meredosia were visited Friday evening by thirty Odd Fellows from Jacksonville and a smaller number from Bethel Lodge of Chapin. Those going from this City left Urania Hall at 6 o'clock, and as the roads were in much better condition than was supposed, arrived in Meredosia in good time.

The members at Meredosia have a live organization and had a good attendance to receive the visitors. An interesting meeting was held and after lodge adjourned, refreshments consisting of sandwiches, coffee and ice cream were served.

The officers of the County Organization belong to Meredosia Lodge and are William L. Wilday, president and J. L. Tischer, secretary. They are already planning for the big Odd Fellow picnic to be held in Meredosia sometime this coming August.

The members of Meredosia were invited to attend Urania Lodge No. 243 of this City Monday, November 27th, the occasion being a booster meeting to get ready for the winter's work. Many of the members will present the applications of a number of candidates desiring admission into the lodge. An oyster supper will be served as part of the entertainment for the guests and a general old fashioned rally is in sight.

W. E. Austin, captain of the degree staff will occupy part of the evening in the drilling of his staff and all members of the staff are requested to be on hand promptly.

RED CROSS NOTES

One day last summer, a soldier who had lost all faith in the Government, and the organizations which were trying to help soldiers was persuaded to call at the Red Cross office for assistance, in settling a great many claims which he had against the Government. He had never received his travel pay, he had back pay due him from his army service, he had been a Lieutenant and his discharge was not properly recorded, his proper battle clasps were not attached to his Victory Medal which he had just received and aside from all these minor claims the man was suffering from a disability which he felt was traceable to his service, for which he had never filed for compensation because of his attitude toward the Government and those in authority.

Through the efforts of the local Chapter Red Cross and those of the man, we finally succeeded in having all the minor claims satisfactorily adjusted, the travel pay of seven cents per mile from Camp Dix, N. J., to his home, amounting to quite a large sum was paid him, his discharge had been corrected and the proper battle clasps had been issued.

The matter of compensation still remained, the most vital claim of all. The disability from which the man was suffering was one whose origin was difficult to trace and for twenty months the man and the local Red Cross struggled with the affidavits and necessary evidence to show the service origin of the disability. This would not have been such a tragedy had it not been for the fact that the man was unable to support himself, wife and two girls, one of pre school age and the other girl eight years of age, a cripple. Mr. Carter, the man had always been able to care for his family and it was not until his family had been in actual want for several months that he had admitted to the Red Cross office that they needed assistance. Even then it was almost impossible to help him because of his extreme pride and sensitiveness. The provision was made to care for the family until such time as the compensation could be adjusted, the man was sent to a hospital in Michigan for treatment, his crippled child was put under a doctor's care, clothing provided for the winter for the family and an effort made to keep intact the self respect of the members of the family.

During the period of Mr. Carter's hospitalization, the family, struggled along with the help of the Red Cross and one day received the good word that the compensation had been granted, that the man would remain in the hospital until cured.

To day Mr. Carter is greatly improved, his wife and two daughters are properly clothed and taken care, they are receiving money regularly each month from the Government and the crippled child will be able to walk in time and the family are once more self respecting, self supporting citizens of Morgan County. It is your membership if you belonged previously that helped save the pride and made the family once more self supporting—Join the Red Cross by paying your money to the solicitor or bring it to the Red Cross office.

Market Report

STOCK MARKET HAD BUSY SESSION

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—A wave of selling orders sweeping into the stock market in the last half hour and points below yesterday's closing levels, provided one of the busiest half holiday sessions in recent weeks.

Speculators for the decline found encouragement for their public support, inactivity of operations in the continued lack of pools in representative shares and the apparently unfavorable reaction as expressed in prices. That the terms of the Bethlehem-Midvale steel merger had upon market traders, Bethlehem "B" was depressed as low as $11.

Midvale's net loss was 13. United States Steel common got down to $10.12, its low level of the week, and 13 points under last night's loss. Vanadium, Lackawanna, Gulf States, Republic and Crucible Steels all closed 1 to 2 points below yesterday's final figures.

Studebaker and Baldwin were the principal targets in the final reaction the former slipping below 117 and the latter falling to a net loss of 43 points and the latter touching 116 and closing at 116.2 for a net loss of 52. Standard Oil of New Jersey, which was weak from the start got down as low as 18.32 but moved up to 18.58, where it represented a net loss of six points.

Railroad shares also participated in the decline, but not as extensively as the industrials. Announcement that the pool formed in Rock Island early in February would be dissolved Dec. 1, and that 40,000 shares of the stock would be distributed at $54 a share caused heavy selling of that issue.

Canadian exchange was back to par and Brazilian exchange continued to improve in reflection of the removal of restrictions in trading by the Brazilian government.

Liberty Bonds were easier.

PRODUCE MARKET REVIEW

Receipts of live poultry show a seasonable increase at New York, as well as at Chicago, and the movement continues heavy this week throughout producing sections. Arrivals of live poultry in New York alone are reported as 360 carlots, as compared with 227 cars the previous week.

Prices have eased off a little, due to increased receipts, but the most noticeable decline in New York was on ducks and geese, which were quoted at 26 and 27c respectively on November 13, and 19 and 20c on November 23.

Fresh eggs have been selling more slowly, due to high prices, with some accumulation. The market closed easier with a decline of fully 5 cents per dozen on the 23rd.

Storage eggs are moving better which is usually the case prior to Thanksgiving. Holdings in Chicago, New York, Boston and Philadelphia are greater than last year, as the following record of stock will show:

In storage November 22, 1922, 2,234,000 cases; in storage November 22, 1921, 1,581,000 cases. Excess, 653,000 cases.

Increased consumption of eggs will be necessary to clear stocks satisfactorily.

The make of butter has just about reached the low point of the year, with higher prices ruling for butter in the larger markets. Some Danish butter of fine quality has reached New York, and more is on the water.

It is expected the high markets will attract some shipments from New Zealand to arrive about the first of the year. The better grades of butter are in firm demand, and prices for butterfat are generally higher thruout the producing territories.

MARKET PRICES DECLINED RAPIDLY

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Liquidation was on in the grain markets to some extent today and was a decided reaction to a new low lack of aggressive support prices figure.

A break in values at Liverpool on increased pressure of Argentine wheat offerings had a depressing effect at the start of the market here. As the session advanced bullish news failed to develop and finally scattered liquidation set in with some stop loss orders caught on the way down. The market showed little recuperative power after the early decline and the close was almost at the low point of the day. Interest of shorts was played out because of the huge in values yesterday.

Export demand for wheat was fair, but as a whole the market appeared to be badly in need of buying. Action of corn and oats was similar to that of wheat. Southern corn and far western demand for cash corn in the Omaha territory was not as aggressive as of late and country offerings were not large. Provisions were higher in line with hog values.

CASH GRAIN REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Wheat in cash market today was lower than the futures and prices were 2c easier; premiums were unchanged on all grades of winter and spring wheat, with No. 1 red 11c over December price. Cash sales were 50,000 bushels to millers.

The market was weak with prices 1 1/2c lower. Premiums were 1c easier for all grades of winter and spring wheat, with No. 1 red 11c over December price. Cash sales were 50,000 bushels to millers.

Oats were lower with prices 1c lower. Premiums were 1c lower. Cash sales were 250,000 bushels all domestic.

MISS HELEN MCGINNIS TO RECEIVE DIPLOMA

To the Public:

This certifies that Miss Helen M. McGinnis was a member of the class of '22, Brown's Business college, and entitled to the diploma. The diploma was unintentionally omitted last night when the others were publicly awarded. In getting the diploma ready to take to the high school, the one for Miss McGinnis became accidentally separated from the remainder. It was located after the exercises were over. I deeply regret this unfortunate occurrence. She is entitled to full credit and honor.

Very respectfully,
G. A. Claiborne, Prin.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for cod liver oil, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous and does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

No more Rheumatism

Suffering has gone from your face, mother!

S. S. S. is the Great Builder of Red Blood-Cells and Rheumatism Must Go Just Try It!

"Rheumatism? No? No, indeed, it's all gone, every bit of it! It's amazing and joy for me now for the first time in years. I feel a wonderful glory again in the free motion I used to have when my days were younger. I look at my hands and think of the twinges and aches they used to have. I bend my arm over to the floor, I haven't been able to do that in many years. I can thank S. S. S. for it all. To me it was a rising sun of joy and liberty. Brothers and sisters in misery, do not close your eyes and think that health, free motion and strength are gone from you forever! It is not so. It is here and now for all of you. S. S. S. is waiting to help you. There is a reason why S. S. S. will help you. When you increase the number of your red blood cells, the entire system undergoes a tremendous change. Everything depends on blood strength. Blood which is minus sufficient red cells leads to a long list of troubles. Rheumatism is one of them. S. S. S. is the great blood-cleanser, blood-builder, system strengthener, nerve invigorator. It stops skin eruptions, eczema, blisters, blackheads, acne, boils, etc. It builds up run down, tired men and women, beautifies complexion, makes the flesh firmer. Star S. S. S. today. It is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size, 60c, is the more economical.

S. S. S. makes you feel like yourself again

Sacrifices Fun to Success

Pretty Dorothy Cannon, heiress of the $50,000,000 estate of Leonard C. Cannon of New York, has forsaken all the luxuries of the idle rich to make her debut in grand opera. The lure of the opera stage was greater than the attraction of the town house on Park avenue, country home on Long Island, or the foreign house in Shanghai, China.

REASON GIVEN FOR SHRINKAGE OF PORKER

WASHINGTON—Tests conducted by the Department of Agriculture to determine justification for the price discount applied to soft and oily hogs, as compared to firm hogs, indicates, in the judgment of officials, that the discount is due to the lack of attractiveness of the pork rather than because of any great shrinkage in weight.

Twelve different tests, involving 800 hogs, were made and complete shrinkage records of slaughtering, chilling, curing, smoking and retaining were obtained. The tests showed that the total loss in weight from the cooler to the end of the retaining period of oily pork was 13.85 percent of the chilled weight and was the same as that of firm pork. The shrinkage in soft pork was nearly 14 percent, or 2.07 percent more than that of either the firm or oily pork.

"Have Faith In America"

Says Babson

The Statistician Believes the Present Stock Market Slump to Be Only Temporary

WELLESLEY HILLS, Nov. 25, 1922—Many traders have decided that the stock market has turned definitely downward and have sold their holdings. Others are hanging on and hoping. The following statement made today by Roger W. Babson would indicate that fundamental conditions substantiate the beliefs of those who are still optimistic.

"There is a feeling in the market that the rise in the market is over," says Mr. Babson, "and that it is headed for a long panic. I am being asked on every hand for my opinion and I want to go on record as taking the opposite position. The long swing upward movement which started in August, 1921, is not yet over. I am not concerned with the minor movements of the market. I don't know anything about them and no one else does. The market may have further declines before it goes higher. Statistics show, however, the market is due to go to higher levels in 1923 or 1924 before it starts on another long downward swing such as we had in 1920.

"I admit that when one looks at surface conditions today, there are many things that tend to confirm the current bearish sentiment. The principal bear argument that is being used, is the European situation. It is difficult for most people to see how conditions in the United States improve much without an increase in our foreign trade. In the European situation and in the Tariff Act they see little encouragement in this direction. Other bearish arguments being put forward are: the high commodity price level that still exists, the failure of wages to come down, the increasing tendency of costs, the small margin of profit in many lines, the poor outlook for certain industries, and political conditions.

"But did anybody ever make money in the stock market by following surface conditions? I never heard that they did. Did surface conditions look rosy back

Record is Your Surety of Service and Satisfaction

In December, 1920 and during 1921 when the market was at its lowest levels? They certainly did not. There were just as many calamity howlers then over the European situation and domestic developments as there are today. In the face of all these things, the market has had a rise of over 60 per cent in the past fifteen months. It may be argued that the market had no license to go up to this extent and that because it has gone up so much it is in a dangerous position. The stock market, however, never could have had any such rise as it did if underlying conditions had not been sound. This portion on the market is based on underlying conditions and not on surface conditions. The same fundamental statistics that told me to be bullish on stocks in 1921 indicate that the long swing movement is not yet over.

"Of course, I don't mean to say that all classes of stocks are necessarily going higher, or that the market will turn higher right away. There are certain groups that may have already seen their top. Judging from the statistical position of the industry of commodity which they represent, I should not be surprised if these did not do so much on the balance of the present movement, or if they sagged. Because of the very uneven readjustment that we have been thru, the various groups of stocks are not all in the same position. This is no time to buy stocks with one's eyes shut. There are still possibilities for profit, however, for the man who will use discrimination."

General business has improved 2 percent over last week. The index of the Babsonchart now stands at 3 percent below normal—the highest point in two years.

LOCAL MAN WRITES CLEVER VERSE

The following lines were written by Dr. David W. Reid of this city and published in the current number of the American Medical Journal:

The Medical Group

Said Doctor A to a friend one day, "Hey, Gray, what do you say? Let's organize into a medical group—A specialist, all-star theatrical troupe. We can serve our constituents better that way; And last, but not least, we can make the thing pay."

"Hold on," said the other, "Just wait half a minute. I'd want to know first of all who would be in it."

"We'd need, to begin with, a surgeon, that's me, And general utility men, two or three, Or four—maybe more; An auriculo-ocular-rhino-glottic-an; A roentgenological diagnostician, And that nothing escape, we'll include in the plan. A psycho-neurologist, a bacteriologist, A cardio-vascular, an osteo-muscular, A dermato-genito-urinal man."

"One thing," said the friend, "I don't quite comprehend. You spoke of a specialist group, and again You mentioned some general utility men."

"Oh, they won't be really inside of the thing; Just hover around on the tail of the wing. They'll be men that will gladly go out in the night And harvest the fruits of a fire or a fight. They'll function as feeders, and bring cases in, And when office hours come run them thru the machine."

"And how when it comes to dividing the fee? And what is the share of each doctor to be?"

"That's the last thing we think of (as well as the first). E'en to mention the thing's to be damned and accursed. In the ethics of groups—see latest revision—We teach multiplication, but to hell with division."

"I see, I see," said the friend—"I see— You have made it as simple as A. B. C. D."

RCUTT COLLEGE "WAG" IN MAGAZINE FORM

"The Rout College Wag," the new school publication at Routt is to make its first appearance in magazine form on December 4th. There have already been a number of issues of the paper, as a smaller pamphlet but it is now planned to make a regular monthly magazine of the publication. The circulation has increased to 300 and a very good paper is expected.

"The Wag" in magazine form will contain forty pages and will be issued monthly. Joe Doller is the editor in chief of the publication, and Miss Lucille Kennedy has been appointed an associate editor in addition to the other members of the staff published recently in the Journal. Miss Margaret Donovan and Robert Walsh are at the head of the circulation department of the paper.

The Routt College alumni have been most liberal in their support of the new paper and have aided greatly in the advertising section of the magazine. It is expected that "The Wag" will have a large circulation among the graduates of the school in the different parts of the country.

FORMER IDENTITS COMING FOR VISIT Mrs. T. J. Bronson, Miss Anna Bronson, Miss Catherine Bronson, and Miss Lilly Way Rutledge of Chicago and formerly of Jacksonville, are expected to arrive in the city the early part of the week for a week's visit with Mrs. Bronson's daughter, Mrs. Preston Wood of Park street. They plan to make the trip to Jacksonville by auto.
